Which was unanimously agreed to.

And Wm. M. Smith was declared unanimously elected President of Common Council for the ensuing term.

Mr. Iseminger conducted the President to the chair, when he administered the oath of office to him.

The President made the following address :

MEMBERS OF COMMON COUNCIL:—

By your very kind partiality I have again been elected to preside over your deliberations for another year. You all know me well enough by this time, to feel assured that I am not only deeply sensible of the distinguished honor which you have thus repeatedly conferred upon me, but that I am also mindful of the great responsibilities which the proper performance of the duties of this office imposes upon me. I don't believe that I ever before felt the burden of these responsibilities as heavily as I do to-day. Never before, perhaps in the history of the City, has the attention of our people been so keenly excited as to the probable course of these Councils upon the important questions which concern the public welfare and agitate the public mind. I don't care to reiterate the well-worn platitude that this is a government for the people and by the people, but we may as well make up our minds that the people of Philadelphia, by a very large majority, are thinking—waiting—watching. It may perhaps be true that many of them are intolerant in their opinions, unfair in their criticisms and unjust in their conclusions as to the conduct of men in public life, but the fact remains that they do think, that they will act, and that they have about made up their minds that there is still a long way between that which we have heretofore done for the City as members of Councils and the perfection of Municipal Government. Let us all endeavor in the year upon which we are now entering, and to the best of our ability and opportunity to so manage and conduct our municipal affairs that this reproachful difference shall no longer exist, and our beautiful City be brought up from the high grade of what she is to the still higher standard of what she ought to be.

Four years ago the administration which to-day reaches the limit of its existence, went into possession of the Executive Branch of the City Government, under the then hitherto untried new charter. At noon to-day they will turn over to their successors the direction and control of those departments of the City Government which they have managed during their term of office, with the highest order of intelligence, integrity and success. In this hour gentlemen, the last hour of Mayor Fitler's administration, I think I may be permitted to say for you, that while we look forward with hope, and expectation, and confidence to the new, it is not without regret that we bid farewell to the old, especially when we remember that the distinguished merchant who closes to-day his term of Chief Magistrate, returns to the quiet and repose of private life with the proud and honorable distinction of having done more for the City of Philadelphia, in the four years of his administration, than was ever accomplished before in the same period of time.

The people have testified their confidence in the character, integrity, and ability of their fellow-citizen who will presently be inaugurated Mayor of the City of Philadelphia. It would be useless and ridiculous for Councils to join in what, I regret to say, is largely a public expectation that Mayor Stuart will be able to work miracles. It is very certain that he has no such expectation himself. In the calm and sober deliberation which will soon be required of us, when we come to consider the measures which, in the Mayor's judgment, are necessary for the public welfare, we will have to determine in accordance with law how much money shall be collected from the taxpayers, and how and for what purposes that money shall be appropriated and expended. Before another meeting of Councils Mayor Stuart will have called to his aid, as heads of our most important departments, men of experience, integrity, and unblemished character. It will be our duty from this time on to co-operate cordially and promptly with the Mayor and his Directors in every way possible, by the enactment of such laws and ordinances as will enable them to meet the just and reasonable expectations of the people. If this is done from time to time, as occasion may require, Councils will have performed their whole duty. If it is not done, Councils will have failed in their duty, and the responsibility and censure for the failure will fall upon them to whom it will properly belong.

You will remember that upon the re-organization of Councils two years ago, and again one year ago, I most respectfully but earnestly urged upon you the creation of a loan for four million six hundred thousand ($4,600,000) dollars, at a low rate of interest, for the construction and completion of permanent improvements which were imperatively required, and for which no adequate provision could be made by reason of the enormous sums which had been annually appropriated out of current taxation for the erection of the City Hall. The creation of that loan was authorized by Councils, and one-half of the money has been and is being expended with results which fully justify the wisdom of Councils in having authorized the measure. The other half will be at the command of the new administration, subject to such ordinances as Councils may enact concerning its appropriation and expenditure.

The power of the City to borrow money is now exhausted, and will so remain until it is again revived by Legislative enactment. I can see no possible reason for such revival unless it should become necessary to authorize a loan large enough to enable the City to procure a new and adequate supply of pure water from the upper Delaware. If that is the source from which the City must eventually obtain its water supply, abundant and pure, preparation to that end ought to be made without delay. It is useless to try to make our people believe that the Schuylkill will furnish them with water, pure enough and abundant enough for their use. They will not believe it, and Councils should respect their belief, as well as their wishes, by authorizing the appointment of an experienced and competent Commission of Engineers to ascertain the best method as well as the cost of obtaining a water supply large enough for double our present population. By the time this is done, so that we may be furnished with all the necessary information on the subject, the City can obtain authority from the Legislature to borrow all the money which may be needed, and without the intervention of a private corporation, whose only object would be to make great profit out of the operation.

I remarked a few minutes ago that in order that the incoming administration may be enabled to meet in some degree the reasonable expectations of the people, liberal appropriations of money must be made by Councils. To this end the tax rate for 1892 ought to be moderately increased from one (1) dollar and eighty-five (85) cents to two (2) dollars per hundred. It will even then be less than it was from 1872 to 1880, but it will provide for permanent improvements more than one million (1,000,000) dollars in excess of what you have to expend this year out of current taxation. I believe that the additional fifteen (15) cents will be cheerfully paid by the taxpayer, by the man whose property is worth many thousands, because he can easily afford it, and his property will be benefited by it; and by the man whose modest home is worth only a small sum, because if the money is honestly expended his children will be received and provided for in the public schools, from which perhaps they are now excluded for the want of room to accommodate them.

Another matter to which I would like to invite your attention for a moment is the necessity for the location and purchase of small parks throughout the City. The Consolidation Act and acts subsequently passed made this mandatory upon Councils, but until quite recently, and owing to the impoverished condition of our Treasury, the Acts of Assembly have been completely ignored. If the time should ever arrive when our City Hall will be completed, I should like to see at least one-half of the money which is now annually expended for construction upon that building appropriated for small parks and breathing spaces here and there throughout the City. In the meantime, let the modest beginning which we have made grow apace, for I sincerely believe that just in proportion as we expend our income for public schools and small parks, just in that proportion will we find it unnecessary to increase our appropriations to hospitals, almshouses and prisons.

Gentlemen, I beg that you will allow me again to thank you for the honor of which you have so often made me the recipient. Believe me, these are not the words of cold formality, but the earnest, honest and sincere expression of my heart. Nobody knows better than I do the great value to the City of the labor which you daily and weekly perform in your committees and in this Chamber. I have often had occasion to refer to the thoroughly efficient and splendid work done by your leading committees, and especially by their tireless and able chairmen. I mention the matter now only to add that the Stuart administration will find in these committees the kind of material of which the best of our public men are made, earnest, care-taking, conscientious and intelligent, and men who will contribute more than any other one influence to the success of that administration, which we hope and believe will be gloriously memorable in the history of Philadelphia.

Mr. Anderson (of Common Council), Chairman of the Joint Committee to make arrangements for the inauguration, reported that the Committee had attended to the duty assigned them, and that the Hon. Edwin H. Fitler and Edwin S. Stuart, Mayor-elect, were now present with the Hon. Joseph Allison.

The President appointed Messrs. Iseninger and Hart a committee to escort them to the platform in front of the President.

Rev. Thomas Hoyt, D.D., offered up an appropriate and impressive prayer, when the oath of office was administered to the Mayor-elect by the Hon. Judge Jos. Allison.

After which the Hon. Edwin S. Stuart, Mayor, delivered the following address:

Philadelphia, April 6, 1891.

To the Select and Common Councils
of the City of Philadelphia.

GENTLEMEN:—To-day, I enter upon my official duties as Mayor of this great City, and I do so with a full appreciation of all the responsibilities that rest upon me. The success of my administration is largely in your hands, for it lies solely with you to direct what shall or shall not be done, and to raise the necessary means to carry on the government of the City. In me is vested only the power to execute, to suggest and recommend. With your hearty and earnest co-operation, much can be done in the next four years to assist in having Philadelphia hold first place in the very front rank of American cities. It will be our duty to do everything that is within our power to secure those advantages which she now lacks. Without your co-operation, my hands will be tied and my efforts useless. From my knowledge, however, of the majority of the gentlemen who compose your Honorable Bodies, a knowledge acquired by five years passed as a member of Select Council, I am confident you will assist me in all that is right and reasonable. More than this I do not ask, and more than this you should not grant.

Under the wise legislation of 1879, made so effective by the earnest co-operation of Councils, the finances of our City are in a prosperous condition.

Under your financial management and the operations of the law, the funded debt of the City has been reduced, during the ten years just closed, fourteen million three hundred and ninety thousand seven hundred and twenty-one (14,390,721) dollars, notwithstanding the fact that there was issued last year a new loan of two million three hundred thousand (2,300,000) dollars. It is also gratifying to note that the value of taxable property has increased one hundred and fifty-two million six hundred and forty-five thousand six hundred and eighty-four (152,645,684) dollars during the same period, showing a remarkable degree of prosperity among our citizens. It is well-known that during the past several years larger expenditures for permanent improvements have been made than ever before in our history, without incurring a single dollar of floating debt.

One of the most important matters for your early consideration, owing to the growth of the City and its vast extent of territory, is the question that relates to rapid transit. It is of the greatest importance that means should be provided whereby our people can be rapidly, safely and comfortably transported from one section to another. Some method should be devised, and that speedily, as delay is detrimental to the best interests of the City.

Every effort should be made to open up the available avenues for trade. I would recommend that we should strive to improve the port and its water facilities. We should assist in the extension of railroads in every direction. All railroad companies desiring to enter the City should be allowed to do so upon conditions that will be satisfactory to the municipality.

The amount of money appropriated from 1881 to 1886, inclusive, for improved pavements on streets not occupied by passenger railway tracks, was two hundred and eighty-two thousand five hundred and eleven (282,511) dollars and seventy-eight (78) cents; from 1887 to 1890, one million one hundred and twenty-two thousand three hundred and twenty-four (1,122,324) dollars and ninety-two (92) cents. The highways have been greatly improved during the last four years, and I believe every dollar appropriated has been honestly expended; but we are far from being up to the standard, as there are yet many miles of streets of cobble and rubble stones that should be repaved with improved pavements. As the cost of repairing the cobble and rubble pavements is so vastly in excess of that necessary to keep in order improved pavements, even as a matter of economy, it is desirable that they should be repaved, outside of the question of the great advantage of such improvements.

My predecessor, in his inaugural address, referred to the decision of the City Solicitor in relation to the duty of the passenger railway companies not only to repair, but to repave the streets occupied by their tracks. Since that time the case has been tried in the Court of Common Pleas No. 1, of this county, and a verdict obtained by the City. An appeal was taken to the Supreme Court, and last week the case was argued before that tribunal; the decision will set at rest this much vexed question. In all repaving the very best work should be done; the pavements should be laid upon solid foundations in the most scientific and improved manner possible. Ten miles of streets well and properly laid would be more advantageous in the long run than twenty miles improperly done.

Philadelphia should have one main boulevard, and I beg to recommend for your favorable action the repaving of Broad street with an improved pavement, resting on substantial foundations and constructed in accordance with the best scientific principles. An appropriation for this purpose would meet, I feel sure, with the approbation of the entire community.

A very serious and menacing danger to the people is the matter of steam railroad crossings at grade. They are constantly causing the death and injury of many of our citizens. I will co-operate with you in any legislation that will have for its ultimate purpose the abolishment of this dangerous evil. In many cases the railroad companies cannot be compelled to raise or depress their tracks, having the right guaranteed them by law to remain as they are. One of the most satisfactory, and at the same time just, pieces of legislation would be for Councils to provide for an amicable arrangement with railroad companies that will effect the removal of these dangerous crossings. The saving of a single life outweighs all matter of expense.

I would also ask your careful consideration of the sewerage system of the City and its many needs. There are now being built, and projected, a number of main sewers, the speedy completion of which will add much to the health of the people.

There is no bureau of the City government that so closely concerns the health and comfort of the citizens as the Bureau of Water. It will be my earnest purpose to do all that can possibly be done to improve the quality and quantity of the supply.

In 1880 there were erected in Philadelphia 1,929 new buildings; the number increased annually ever since that date, until in 1889 it amounted to 10,122. While this shows the remarkable growth of the City, and adds greatly to the revenue from taxation, all these buildings create an increased demand upon the water supply.

The increase in the pumping capacity of the works has been very great; the amount pumped in 1889 was 42,000,000,000 of gallons, and upwards, as against 21,000,000,000 in 1880; the increase annually being about 14 per cent.

On account of the increase of population on the drainage area, and the trouble necessary to protect the streams from pollution, it grows more difficult each year in this City, as well as in all other large cities, to maintain the purity of the supply. In time, new sources of supply may have to be obtained from less thickly-settled regions, or the water purified by some suitable process of filtration.

The East Park Reservoir is finished, and the new Roxborough Basin in process of building. More subsiding reservoirs are needed, especially for that part of the City supplied directly from the river, and for West Philadelphia. These reservoirs are a necessity, and they will also form an important part of any new system. Money appropriated for these objects will be well invested.

This whole subject of water supply is one for future investigation and legislative action by your Honorable Bodies. I will at all times be willing to co-operate with you, and assist in every way to improve the supply and quality of the same.

Next to the supply of water, which is a necessity in every household, the Bureau of Gas more directly concerns our citizens than perhaps any other. To it, my earnest endeavors will be given, with the view of furnishing gas as satisfactory as it is within my power to secure.

Every encouragement and assistance that it is possible to extend should be given to builders and property owners in the matter of municipal improvements, such as the opening, grading, and paving of streets, building of branch sewers, laying gas and water-pipes, etc., and if legislation could be provided whereby parties interested in the development of our City could have these municipal improvements made without the present delays and annoyances, it would greatly encourage the development of real estate operations.

The education of our children is one of the important questions that demands attention. Unfortunately there are not, at this time, sufficient school accommodations, and many children, in some districts, are unable to obtain admission into the public schools. The intelligence of a people depends, in a great measure, upon early school advantages, and no matter for our consideration should appeal so strongly to us.

It is of the first importance that sufficient appropriations should be made and wisely disbursed in this direction.

It is my purpose to remove the police force from active participation in politics, and one of my first official acts will be the issuing of an order to the Director of the Department of Public Safety to this effect.

The administration of my immediate predecessor has been honestly, intelligently, and economically conducted, and much has been done, under his wise management, to advance the real interests and welfare of the City.

I will conduct my administration in a fair, business-like manner, for the welfare of the entire community; to this end, I will be ever ready to counsel and encourage all legislation looking to the progress of Philadelphia.

As the necessity may arise, it will be my pleasure to communicate with you, by special message, upon many of the important subjects affecting the advancement and prosperity of the municipality.

For that reason, I have refrained, at this time, from making a long address. It is by our actions we will be judged. It is by what we accomplish, in the matter of municipal improvements, that we are to be weighed in the balance.

We are all interested in having Philadelphia not only rank among the first cities of the country, but also desire her to press forward to the foremost place. This is only possible by constant improvements, and for these improvements there must be money, and money in amount considerably exceeding that which we have had in the past; otherwise, it must be fully appreciated, that many of the much-needed improvements cannot be secured. If Philadelphia is to reach that success which her citizens are so anxious to attain, the great requirement is money in sufficient quantities.

The entire responsibility of determining the ways and means to raise this money rests with you, and I will ever find it my pleasure, as well as my duty, to join with you in any measure looking towards the material prosperity of our City.

To you, my fellow-members of Councils, I desire to return my sincere thanks for the many courtesies I have in the past received at your hands. It is with reluctance, and I say it without reservation, that I part with you to enter upon new and more responsible duties; but I feel confident that at all times I will receive your loyal and generous support. Your kind suggestions and hearty co-operation will often relieve me, and materially assist me in the discharge of my public duties.

To those members with whom I have been directly associated, and whose friendship I so greatly value, I have only to personally return my thanks, and to say that I will lean specially upon them for advice and assistance.

Mr. Crowell offered the following, to wit:

APPENDIX No. 15.

DEPARTMENT OF CITY CONTROLLER,

Philadelphia, April 23, 1891.

To the Select and Common Councils
of the City of Philadelphia.

GENTLEMEN:—I have the honor to announce to you that this Department is now prepared to countersign monthly warrants for all persons in the employ of the Board of Public Education.

In support of this declaration, I am urged to the necessity of submitting a few facts for your consideration, directed towards that which I conceive to be a great convenience, if not a simple act of justice in the method of paying the salaries to the females employed as teachers in the public schools of this City.

On the first day of January, 1891, there were two thousand six hundred and ninety-four teachers carried upon the pay-rolls of the Board of Education. Of these, one hundred and five were males, and two thousand five hundred and eighty-nine females. The male teachers, together with all male attachés, superintendents, architects, clerks, etc., in various capacities, which are, as a matter of course, receiving the larger salaries, are paid monthly, while the females are paid but quarterly, preference is therefore made against those least able to bear the burden by reason of smaller salaries, and the public are slow to understand the cause for a distinction being made.

Under the Constitution of 1874, Article 10, Section 3, "Women twenty-one years of age, and upwards, are eligible to any office of control or management under the school laws of the State."

Why then, all other things being equal, in the appointment of two persons to the positions of teachers, selected for their general fitness irrespective of the sex, one a male and the other a female, should the former be placed upon a monthly pay-roll, while the latter must submit to a rule which compels her to wait three months for that to which she is justly entitled monthly?

This Department has been in receipt of touching communications from teachers, appealing for a change that would more equally distribute the annual salary, and obviate the odious practice of shaving warrants, which by force of circumstances is so universally submitted to by many now in the employ of the City; frequently the entire amount being mortgaged through long-deferred payment for services faithfully rendered weeks before the warrants are ready for delivery.

In recommending the above for your consideration, I am sure that the Board of Public Education will heartily co-operate in any way which may be suggested as a feasible one in the abolishment of a rule so manifestly unfair, and I shall be pleased to tender the aid of this Department in any manner which in your judgment may be necessary in the establishment of this much-needed and meritorious measure.

Very respectfully yours,

THOMAS M. THOMPSON,

City Controller.

APPENDIX No. 16.

AND WHEREAS, The power of Councils to grant permission by ordinance, to erect frame buildings in the prohibited districts, has been questioned, therefore,

Resolved, by Common Council of the City of Philadelphia, That the City Solicitor be requested to inform this body, whether Councils have the power, or not, to grant special permission to an individual, firm or corporation (by ordinance) authorizing the erection of a wooden building within those parts of the City of Philadelphia, in which the erection of wooden buildings are prohibited by the ordinance of 1863, and its supplements.

DEPARTMENT OF CITY CONTROLLER,

Philadelphia, February 20, 1891.

ELIAS P. SMITHERS, ESQ.,

Chairman Committee on Finance.

DEAR SIR:—I acknowledge the receipt of your favor, dated the 18th, enclosing a communication from the Hon. Edwin H. Fitler, Mayor, to which there was attached another from General Louis Wagner, Director of the Department of Public Works, in reference to the merging by the City Controller of certain items of the Bureau of Highways and Water.

In reply, would say that my predecessor, General Dechert, after due consideration, decided that the items mentioned in your favor should merge.

In the matter of the Bureau of Highways, in Item 24, the uncharged item of this balance was seven thousand two hundred and forty-six (7,246) dollars and thirty (30) cents, not being covered by contract, the amount merged.

Item 24½ (three per cent. loan), the unexpended balance was three thousand two hundred and fifty-eight (3,258) dollars and forty-two (42) cents, of which two thousand nine hundred and fifty-six (2,956) dollars was covered by contract, leaving a balance of three hundred and two (302) dollars and forty-two (42) cents to merge.

In the Bureau of Water, Item 9½ (three per cent. loan), there was appropriated for the Roxborough Reservoir...	$400,000 00
Contract awarded for the same.....	351,000 00
Balance.....	$49,000 00
Warrants have been countersigned against this balance amounting to.....	$25,572 18
The balance, merging.....	$23,427 82

Item 9, of same Bureau, one thousand three hundred and ninety-nine (1,399) dollars and eighty-nine (89) cents not being under contract, also merged. The decision of the Controller, in directing these amounts to merge, reduced the deficit, which would, of course, have been much greater had they not merged, and necessitated Councils making the deficit good.

We have already countersigned warrants for some of the items mentioned in the communication of the Director of the Department of Public Works, and have no doubt but what some satisfactory arrangement can be made whereby the balances can be paid.

Yours respectfully,

THOMAS M. THOMPSON,
City Controller.

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS,

Philadelphia, March 12, 1891.

ELIAS P. SMITHERS, Esq.,
Chairman Committee on Finance.

DEAR SIR:—Yours of the 10th instant, with the report of the City Controller herein returned, of the balances merged on December 31st last, with the work still unfinished, I beg to say that the facts as to the merging are as stated by the City Controller.

The facts as to the work to be done and paid for, for which there is no money, are not correctly stated. The officers of the Bureau of Highways did their best to persuade Colonel Dechert that this money was needed for work upon North Broad street, but, as intimated in Mr. Thompson's letter, for the purpose of figuring out a smaller deficiency, the money was merged, and the result is that I now have a bill from the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, amounting to six thousand two hundred and thirty-three (6,233) dollars and twenty-nine (29) cents, which cannot be paid. The money is due this company for work done, and there should be means provided to pay it.

Upon the matter of the new reservoir at Roxborough, the proposition is, to my mind, a very plain one, and resolves itself into the question of the right of the Controller to merge into the general fund money raised by loan. If we were not charging the expenses of the Engineer Corps, upon this work, to the appropriation for extensions, made for this year, these men would go without their pay.

I beg to repeat that I have, upon two occasions heretofore, requested through His Honor, the Mayor, that these balances, the one for the repaving of North Broad street, and the one on account of the new reservoir at Roxborough, be reinstated.

Yours truly,

LOUIS WAGNER,

APPENDIX No. 33.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

Philadelphia, May 7, 1891.

To the Select and Common Councils
of the City of Philadelphia.

GENTLEMEN:—I have the honor to herewith transmit for your consideration a communication from James H. Windrim, Director of the Department of Public Works, concerning the limitation of authority to construct sewers, as provided in the ordinance of February 26th, 1891, authorizing the construction of sewers and the laying of gas and water-pipes in streets authorized by Councils to be paved or repaved.

I am, respectfully,

EDWIN S. STUART,
Mayor.

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS,

Philadelphia, May 7, 1891.

HON. EDWIN S. STUART,
Mayor of the City of Philadelphia.

DEAR SIR:—Councils, by ordinance of February 26th, 1891, have authorized the construction of sewers and the laying of gas and water-pipes in streets authorized by Councils to be paved or repaved. Several cases have already arisen where one square is authorized to be paved beyond which one or more squares of sewer will have to be built to give an outlet for the sewer in the square authorized to be paved.

The City Solicitor has given his opinion that the ordinance does not give any power beyond the limits of the streets authorized to be paved.

I have the honor to request that you will present this matter to Councils, to determine whether the power granted should not be extended to meet such cases as those hereinbefore mentioned.

Very respectfully submitted,

JAS. H. WINDRIM,
Director.

APPENDIX No. 34.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR.

Philadelphia, May 7, 1891.

To the Select and Common Councils
of the City of Philadelphia.

GENTLEMEN :—I have the honor to herewith transmit for your consideration a communication from James H. Windrim, Director of the Department of Public Works, requesting certain amendments to the ordinance of March 18th, 1891, authorizing the grading of Jackson, Moore and other streets.

I am respectfully,

EDWIN S. STUART,
Mayor.

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS,

Philadelphia, May 7, 1891.

HON. EDWIN S. STUART,
Mayor of the City of Philadelphia.

DEAR SIR :—An ordinance of Councils was passed October 21st, 1890, for grading Jackson street, from Eleventh to Thirteenth street. After advertisement, contract was made therefor. Subsequently an ordinance of Councils was passed March 18th, 1891, authorizing the grading of Jackson street, from Tenth to Twelfth street.

It will be seen that the latter ordinance, March 18th, authorizes work to be done upon portions of the street already under contract. In order to legally award the portion of the work not provided for in the ordinance of October 21st, 1890, it will require the ordinance of March 18th, 1891, to be amended by striking out the words, "from Tenth to Twelfth street," and inserting in lieu thereof the words, "from Tenth to Eleventh street."

Also, an ordinance of Councils was passed October 26th, 1890, for the grading of Moore street, from Sixteenth to Seventeenth street. After advertisement, the contract was awarded. Subsequently an ordinance of Councils was passed on March 13th, 1891, authorizing the grading of Moore street, from Sixteenth to Ward street.

The latter ordinance covers the work already contracted for under the ordinance of October 26th, 1890, and it will require the ordinance of March 18th, 1891, to be amended by striking out the words, "from Sixteenth to Ward street," and inserting in lieu thereof the words, "from Seventeenth to Ward street."

I have the honor to request that you will refer this matter to Councils and request their immediate action thereon.

Very respectfully submitted,

JAS. H. WINDRIM,
Director.

APPENDIX No. 35.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

Philadelphia, May 7, 1891.

To the Select and Common Council
of the City of Philadelphia.

GENTLEMEN:—I have the honor to herewith transmit for your consideration a communication from James H. Windrim, Director of the Department of Public Works, concerning the contract awarded to Frank Knapp for building a sewer on Oxford street, from Thirty-third street to the end of an old sewer, one hundred and sixty-nine feet west of Twenty-ninth street.

I am, respectfully,

EDWIN S. STUART,
Mayor.

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS,

Philadelphia, May 6, 1891.

HON. EDWIN S. STUART,
Mayor of Philadelphia.

DEAR SIR:—Under authority of an ordinance of February 26th, 1891, bids were received by the Department of Public Works, and a contract awarded to Frank Knapp for building a sewer on Oxford street, from Thirty-third street to the end of an old sewer, 169 feet west of Twenty-ninth street, at seven (7) dollars and forty (40) cents per foot, amounting to fourteen thousand nine hundred and seventy-three (14,973) dollars.

Nearly the whole distance is in tunnel, and passing under the tracks of the Connecting Railroad. After the contractor had done a portion of the work east of Thirtieth street, it was ascertained that the City and property owners could be better accommodated by making use of a sewer built to carry a natural stream on private property on the line of the centre of Jefferson street parallel to Oxford street, and one square south therefrom, which would dispense with the great expense of tunnelling, and instead thereof disposing of drainage by sewers of the usual depth of twelve feet, saving nine thousand (9,000) dollars. The Department has caused the work under the award to Frank Knapp to be suspended, in order that an equitable adjustment may be made with the contractor, and the authority of Councils given to building one square of a connecting sewer on Thirty-third street, and other changes as proposed.

I have the honor to request that you will transmit this matter to Councils for their consideration.

Yours truly,

JAMES H. WINDRIM,

Director.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

Philadelphia, May 12, 1891.

To the Select and Common Councils
of the City of Philadelphia.

GENTLEMEN:—The ordinance of February 16th, 1891, authorizing the Mayor to advertise for sale the permission of constructing and operating a double track elevated railway on Market street, from the Delaware river to Juniper street; on Juniper street to South Penn square; on South Penn square to Broad street; on Broad street to Market street; on Market street to Sixty-third street, provided, among other things that the Mayor shall give notice of the time, place, and conditions of sale by advertising weekly in the newspapers published in Philadelphia, New York and Chicago.

The advertisement has been sent to newspapers in the cities named, and is now being published.

The estimated cost of advertising and printing in connection with this matter is eighteen hundred (1800) dollars, and as the amount appropriated to the item to which these expenses are chargeable was based on only the regular estimated expenses of this office, I have the honor to request an additional appropriation to Item 4, in the annual appropriation to the Mayor for the year 1891, in order to provide funds for the payment of these bills.

I am, respectfully,

EDWIN S. STUART,
Mayor.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

Philadelphia, May 7, 1891.

To the Select and Common Councils
of the City of Philadelphia.

GENTLEMEN:—I have the honor to herewith transmit for your consideration, and for such action as your Honorable Bodies may deem necessary, a communication from Frederick B. Esler, concerning the offer of the Electric Power Company to surrender to the City of Philadelphia, all of the poles owned by that company, and erect under permit for City lighting. With this communication I also transmit communications from David R. Walker, Chief of the Electrical Bureau, and Charles F. Warwick, Esq., City Solicitor, respectively; each of these latter communications bearing upon the matter set forth in the letter of Mr. Esler.

I am, respectfully,

EDWIN S. STUART,

Mayor.

OFFICE OF THE ELECTRIC POWER COMPANY,

Philadelphia, April 7, 1891.

HON. EDWIN S. STUART,

Mayor of the City of Philadelphia.

DEAR SIR:—Some weeks since, on behalf of this company, I addressed your predecessor a communication, offering to meet the public demand for the removal of electric light poles from the streets, by surrendering to the City of Philadelphia all the poles owned by this company, and erected under permit for City lighting; asking merely that we be permitted to attach our wires to them, or others owned by the City, until such times as a system of underground conduits, open to the wires of this company, be provided. I was emboldened to make this proposition by the knowledge that shortly before my letter was sent, the Mayor had accepted a similar surrender of poles, upon like conditions, from the Brush Electric Light Company. An early reply was promised me, but up to date none has been received. The position of the Brush poles surrendered was, I am informed, very different from that occupied by ours. Every pole erected by the Electric Power Company was under permit, in pursuance of an ordinance, which permit, or license, authorizes the company to maintain them until January 1st, 1892. The surrendered poles of the Brush Company were maintained without permit, or ordinance of any kind, and were subject to immediate removal at the hands of the City authorities. By the acceptance of the poles tendered the City by the Electric Power Company a complete line of City poles is obtained without cost, and the concession of the right to attach wires to these and other City poles is limited to the time and places in which there are no underground conduits open to our use.

Within a few days this company will be called on to provide additional lights to the City, some of which cannot be reached except over new poles, to be erected. It is to avoid this apparently unnecessary erection of poles that I again call the attention of the City authorities to this company's proposition.

Trusting that, amid your multifarious duties, you will not overlook this, I am, with great respect,

Yours truly,

FREDERIC B. ESLER.

ELECTRICAL BUREAU,

Philadelphia, April 21, 1891.

MR. GEORGE RONEY,

Director of the Department of Public Safety.

DEAR SIR:—Referring to the letter of Frederick B. Esler, of April 7th, 1891, addressed to the Hon. Edwin S. Stuart, Mayor, which you referred to me for report, stating that he had sent a communication to his predecessor offering to surrender all of the poles erected by the Electric Power Company under permit for City lighting, and asking that said company be permitted to attach their wires, for private as well as public lighting, to them or other poles owned by the City, until such time as a system of underground conduits, open to the wires of that company, be provided, would state I am aware that a letter was received by ex-Mayor E. H. Fitler from Frederick B. Esler, President of the Electric Power Company, under date of February 27th, 1891, stating that he was authorized by that company to offer to give to the City, free of expense, all the poles erected by his company, and ask merely that the wires now attached thereto shall remain, to be used for public and private lighting, until such time as a system of underground communication has been provided for electric light wires. I have no knowledge of what final disposition was made of the matter. You will observe that President Esler offers to hand over their poles only on condition that his company be allowed to use the poles, as well as City poles, for private lighting.

As the Electric Power Company have had no authority granted them by ordinance of Councils to erect either poles or wires for any electrical purpose whatsoever, any agreement to accept the poles of this company, with the provision that they could string wires for purposes other than public lighting, could not, in my judgment, in the absence of specific legislation on the subject, be entered into on the part of the City.

Permission to erect their present poles, to string wires, and to make attachments to City poles for public lighting only, under the contract of 1891, was granted the Electric Power Company by this Bureau, under authority of the ordinance of Councils governing such matters. The poles belonging to the Electric Power Company are unsightly and the line poorly constructed; this was owing to the short time allowed the company for construction, in order that they could commence public lighting on January 1st last; but it was understood and agreed on the part of the Electric Power Company that poles of the standard, and in conformity with the rules and regulations of this Bureau, would be substituted at an early day, but no material change has so far been made, and I would not recommend that they be accepted by the City, if they are to remain there permanently.

The large number of electric light wires already attached to the City poles interfere greatly with the operations of the City service, and the linemen are in constant danger from the current passing through these wires; for these reasons I would recommend that no more attachments of electric light wires to City poles be permitted for other than public lighting.

In his communication of April 7th, 1891, Mr. Esler also states:

"I was emboldened to make this proposition by the knowledge that shortly before my letter was sent, the Mayor had accepted a similar surrender of poles upon like conditions from the Brush Electric Light Company."

In this I believe Mr. Esler to be in error, as I have no official knowledge of Mayor Fitler accepting the lines tendered to the City, with all the conditions mentioned in Mr. Esler's letter.

Under date of February 4th, 1891, the Brush Electric Light Company submitted to Mayor Fidler, for his consideration, the following form of agreement:

"The Brush Electric Light Company hereby surrenders to the City of Philadelphia, the poles and posts specified in the enclosed list (list on file in this office). This list covers all poles that are not connected with our system of lighting, authorized by our ordinance of 1882. That is to say, it includes: First, all poles and posts occupied, used and belonging to us between South street and Washington avenue, east of Broad street, on streets running east and west; and Second, all poles and posts south of Washington avenue, east of Broad street.

"It is our understanding that we shall be permitted to retain on these poles the wires which are now upon them, and thus be enabled, without erecting additional poles, to carry on our business, as authorized by the ordinance referred to, on the streets therein mentioned, and also to reach the steamship wharves below Washington avenue.

"Yours truly,

"THOMAS DOLAN,
"President."

Under date of March 7th, 1891, in addition to the poles and posts heretofore offered to the City, the Brush Electric Light Company state their willingness to agree as follows:

"In order to avoid unnecessary duplication of poles upon the streets, and in further compliance with the views expressed by you at the interview with relation to this matter between yourself and Messrs. De Camp and Morgan, we hereby assent to the use by the City, of the poles and posts specified in the accompanying list (list on file in this office) for public lighting under existing contracts not made with us.

"It is our understanding that we retain thereon the wires which are essential to the conduct of our business of private lighting, as authorized by your ordinance of 1882.

"Yours, very truly,

"THOMAS DOLAN,
"President of the Brush Electric Light Company."

I would recommend that authority be obtained for the Mayor to accept the proposition of the Brush Electric Light Company as set forth above, and that the Brush Company be permitted to use the present poles and wires for commercial purposes which were erected by them for public lighting. This permission to continue in force only as long as the erection and maintenance of poles and wires along and across the highways is permitted by City Councils in the territory referred to in the proposition.

The duplication of poles upon the highways should be prohibited as far as practicable, and if the City becomes the owner of all poles belonging to the various electric light companies, it will reduce this evil to a minimum, as this Bureau will be able to retain in use only such poles as are most conveniently located for the accomplishment of the purposes intended; and, the poles having become the property of the City, the usual license charges for attachments to City poles would aid in defraying the cost of maintenance.

I return herewith the communication of Mr. Frederick B. Esler, of date of April 7th, 1891.

Very respectfully,

D. R. WALKER,
Chief of Bureau.

LAW DEPARTMENT,

Philadelphia, May 5, 1891.

HON. EDWIN S. STUART,

Mayor of the City of Philadelphia.

DEAR SIR:—I received your communication of the 27th ultimo, enclosing a letter from George Roney, Esq., Director of the Department of Public Safety, also a letter address to him by D. R. Walker, Chief of the Electrical Bureau, and also a letter of April 7th addressed to you by Frederic B. Esler, President of the Electric Power Company, in which under certain conditions, he, as the president of the company, offers to surrender to the City of Philadelphia all the poles owned by this company and erected under a permit for City lighting, asking permission to attach the wires of the said company to such poles or others owned by the City for the purpose of private lighting, until such times as a system of underground conduits open to the wires of this company shall be provided.

I have examined the report of Mr. Walker submitted to the Director of the Department of Public Safety, and subsequently by the Director submitted to you. In view of all the facts in the case, I think it advisable for you to refer the whole matter to Councils for their consideration and action.

Yours very respectfully,

CHAS. F. WARWICK,
City Solicitor.

APPENDIX No. 47.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

Philadelphia, May 14, 1891.

To the Select and Common Councils
of the City of Philadelphia.

GENTLEMEN:—I have the honor to herewith transmit for your consideration a communication, which has my approval, from James H. Windrim, Director of the Department of Public Works, in relation to the necessity of a watchman on the bridge over the Schuylkill river at Green lane, Manayunk.

I am, respectfully,
EDWIN S. STUART,
Mayor.

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS,

Philadelphia, May 8, 1891.

HON. EDWIN S. STUART,
Mayor of the City of Philadelphia.

DEAR SIR:—The bridge over the Schuylkill river at Green lane, Manayunk, between the counties of Montgomery and Philadelphia, has lately become free and has come under the control of the two counties, and is to be kept in proper order and repair by them. In order to properly look after the structure it is necessary that there should be a watchman on it both day and night, at a salary of say four hundred and twenty ($20) dollars per annum each, the expense to be borne jointly by the two counties.

I therefore have the honor to request that you refer this matter to Councils for their consideration and action.

Very respectfully submitted,
JAS. H. WINDRIM,
Director.

APPENDIX No. 48.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

Philadelphia, May 14, 1891.

To the Select and Common Councils
of the City of Philadelphia.

GENTLEMEN:—I have the honor to herewith transmit for your consideration, a communication, which has my approval, from James H. Windrim, Director of the Department of Public Works, setting forth the necessity of acquiring a plot of ground on Queen lane, upon which a reservoir could be constructed to hold four hundred million gallons of water, and thus supply the northwestern districts of the City with subsided water at a uniform pressure. The report of the Chief of the Bureau of Water on this subject, and map showing the proposed site of the reservoir and the area and section of the City that may be supplied therefrom, are submitted herewith.

I am respectfully,

EDWIN S. STUART,

Mayor.

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS,

Philadelphia, May 14, 1891.

HON. EDWIN S. STUART,

Mayor of Philadelphia.

DEAR SIR:—To obtain a better supply of water for the northwestern districts, which are too high to be supplied from the East Park reservoir, the City, in 1886, purchased a site for a proposed reservoir in the neighborhood of Thirtieth and Cambria streets. Councils made no appropriation for the construction of the reservoir.

It is of record that a reservoir upon this purchased property would supply only 1.74 square miles of territory additional to that which the present facilities of the Bureau of Water can furnish. Upon this plot of ground a reservoir could be constructed with two hundred and ten million (210,000,000) gallons capacity.

The rapid improvement of the City, north and west, upon ground of higher elevation than this location, caused this Department to examine for a site for a reservoir that would be of sufficient elevation and extent to supply the section adjacent to it, and for distribution to the largest area, including the section of the City now depending upon direct pumping.

On September 3d, 1890, Mayor Fitler transmitted to Councils a recommendation from the Department of Public Works for the purchase of a plot of ground on Queen lane. It is found that at this location a reservoir may be built at an elevation to furnish water to 19.54 square miles, under a pressure of thirty pounds at the highest part, and large enough that it will have a capacity of four hundred million (400,000,000) gallons. No report was made by the Water Committee upon this subject before April 4th, 1891. As the water supply to an important and increasing district of the City, the Fifteenth, Twenty-eighth, Twenty-ninth, and Thirty-second Wards, and about half of the Twentieth Ward, by direct pumpage through the mains, is not satisfactory in quality, quantity or regularity, the earliest construction of a reservoir for this section is a necessity, in order to give it subsided water with uniform pressure.

Please find herewith the report of Mr. John L. Ogden, Chief of the Bureau of Water, on the subject, with accompanying map showing the proposed site of the reservoir, and in color the area and section of the City that may be supplied therefrom.

I have the honor to request that you will ask the attention of Councils to this matter that action may be immediately had, directing the acquisition of the necessary land and the construction of a reservoir, to provide relief to the districts now imperfectly supplied with water.

Very respectfully submitted,

JAMES H. WINDRIM,

Director.

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS,

Philadelphia, May 2, 1891.

MR. JAMES H. WINDRIM,

Director of the Department of Public Works.

SIR:—As requested the following information in regard to the location of a reservoir for the better supply of that part of the City now depending upon direct pumpage, is respectfully submitted.

On July 6th, 1883, an ordinance of Councils was approved which appropriated a lot of ground in the Twenty-eighth Ward of the City for reservoir and other purposes connected with the supply of water.

A jury was appointed by the Court of Quarter Sessions for the assessment of damages, and in the summer of 1886 they filed their report.

The amount paid for the land ($45,891\frac{3}{4}$ acres), including interest, was about two hundred and eighty-seven thousand five hundred and eighty-three (287,583) dollars and forty (40) cents, and for consequential damages about twenty-four thousand one hundred and forty-two (24,142) dollars and ten (10) cents, a total of three hundred and eleven thousand seven hundred and twenty-five (311,725) dollars and fifty (50) cents.

The ground was surveyed and a plan made of a triangular shaped reservoir to hold 210,000,000 gallons, which was estimated to cost five hundred and three thousand six hundred and forty (503,640) dollars.

Councils have been unable to appropriate the money for its completion, and the ground has been rented, after advertisement, for the sum of seven hundred and fifty-seven (757) dollars and fifty (50) cents annually.

This reservoir was intended to furnish water to the middle northwestern part of the City, which is too high to be supplied from the East Park reservoir.

The topography of the ground will only permit of the construction of a basin about thirty feet higher than the East Park reservoir, or about 165 feet above the City datum.

To give a pressure in the district of from 25 to 30 pounds a head of 75 feet is necessary, for which reason the Cambria basin will only supply a district below a contour of 90 feet, containing about 5.62 square miles, of which 3.88 miles is either now or can be more conveniently supplied from the Wentz Farm basin. The balance, about 1.74 square miles, is all that can be satisfactorily given water from the proposed Cambria basin.

The district intended to be supplied, and which is now on direct pumpage, comprises the Fifteenth, Twenty-eighth, Twenty-ninth, Thirty-second, and about half of the Twentieth Wards.

Since 1883 this part of the City has increased greatly in population and in the number of new houses. During 1890 about 3,000 houses were built, and at least 10,000 have been erected within the last seven years.

The demand for water has increased to such an extent that it is almost impossible to keep up the proper pressure, especially on Saturday morning when the use of wash paves taxes the pumps beyond their capacity.

If the Cambria basin be completed an area of ground about ten square miles will continue to be supplied by direct pumpage, or by a higher basin to be hereafter provided.

Building improvements have almost reached the Cambria site on the south and extend far beyond it on the north.

The ground can no doubt be sold for much more than it cost the City in 1883, and nothing will be lost by abandoning the location.

On September 3d, 1890, the Mayor transmitted to Councils, a communication from the Director of the Department of Public Works, recommending the purchase of a plot of ground on Queen lane, upon which to build a reservoir of 400,000,000 gallons capacity, and of a sufficient elevation to furnish water to 19.54 square miles, under a pressure of thirty pounds at the highest part.

This location was selected after a careful examination of the land within a reasonable distance of the pumping station and is well adapted for the purpose, being a large level tract upon which a storage and subsiding basin of a large area can be constructed.

It is near the district to be supplied, so that the pumping and distributing mains, which are a large item of expense, will be of a minimum length.

It is located near two railroads and the City will gain largely in the decreased cost of erection by being thus situated.

The failure of the Water Committee to report upon this subject before April 4th, necessitates its reintroduction into the new Councils.

A plan of the Queen street basin, and a map showing the areas to be supplied, accompany this communication.

Respectfully,

JOHN L. OGDEN,

Chief of Bureau.

APPENDIX No. 79.

LAW DEPARTMENT,

Philadelphia, May 27, 1891.

ELIAS P. SMITHERS, ESQ.,

Chairman of the Committee on Finance.

DEAR SIR:—I have yours of the 23d inst., advising me of the receipt by Councils of the resignation of John Bardsley as City Treasurer, and asking me to advise you as to the duty of Councils in the premises covering:

1. The proper action of Councils with reference to the resignation.
2. The right of Councils to fill the vacancy.
3. The eligibility of a member of Councils to be chosen to fill the vacancy in case Councils have the right to elect.
4. Such other points as it may seem proper that Councils should be advised upon.

In reply I beg to say:

1. There seems to be no course open to Councils but to accept the resignation. That the present incumbent should no longer fill the office is clear. That his resignation is unequivocal, and that on the 30th inst., the office will be in fact, if not in law, without a head, unless a successor be at once selected, is apparent. The interests of the City are too important to leave them without a proper party in charge as Treasurer. Mr. Bardsley clearly has the right to resign, and I cannot see how the naming of a successor in anywise relieves him or his sureties for past dereliction of duty. As a matter of precaution it might be well in accepting the resignation, to add a proviso that such acceptance shall in no wise relieve him or his sureties.

2. I am of opinion that the power to fill the vacancy is in Councils.

County Treasurers, as part of the machinery of government, date back to the foundation of government in the province.

The Act of May 27th, 1841, P. L., 400, Section 5, is as follows:

“In case any person so elected County Treasurer shall be declared ineligible, refuse to give bonds agreeably to law, die, resign, remove from the county, or be removed from office on account of any delinquency or misdemeanor, it shall be lawful for the County Commissioners to appoint a suitable person to fill said office until the expiration of the term for which such County Treasurer shall have been elected, and the person so appointed shall conform and be subject to the laws of this Commonwealth in relation to County Treasurers, and be subject to like removal; Provided, no person shall be appointed, declared by law to be ineligible to election.”

It is clear then that after 1841 any vacancy in the office of County Treasurer would have been filled by appointment or elected by the County Commissioners.

In 1854 the Consolidation Act was passed whereby the various districts, townships, etc., in Philadelphia County were merged with the then City as the City of Philadelphia, and the limits of the new City were made co-extensive with the County. The Act was that of 2d February, 1854, and Section 10 reads:

“The qualified voters of the said City shall, on the first Tuesday in May, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-five, and until such election, the present City Treasurer shall continue to be the City Treasurer, and on the first Tuesday in May in every second year thereafter, elect a City Treasurer to serve for two years from the first Monday of July next, succeeding such election. He shall give bond to the City conditioned for the faithful performance of his duty, in such amount as the City Councils shall direct, and shall, before he enters upon his office, take and subscribe an oath or affirmation, honestly to keep and account for all public moneys and property entrusted to his care, and if such Treasurer shall knowing violate said oath, he shall be deemed guilty of perjury, and on conviction thereof in the proper court, be sentenced to undergo solitary imprisonment at hard labor in the Eastern Penitentiary for the term of not less than one or more than ten years. Any vacancy in said office shall be filled by the City Councils, by viva voce vote in joint meeting."

It is, of course, equally clear that after 1854 any vacancy "in said office" would be filled by Councils, and such must be the law to-day, unless this power then given to Councils has been taken away.

Article 14 of the Constitution, Section 1, provides that:

"County officers shall consist of Sheriffs, Coroners, Prothonotaries, Registers of Wills, Recorders of Deeds, Commissioners, Treasurers, Surveyors, Auditors or Controllers, Clerks of the Courts, District Attorneys, and such others, as may from time to time be established by law; and no sheriff or treasurer shall be eligible for the term next succeeding the one for which he may be elected.

"Sect. 2. County officers shall be elected at the general elections, and shall hold their offices for the term of three years, beginning on the first Monday of January next after their election, and until their successors shall be duly qualified; all vacancies not otherwise provided for, shall be filled in such manner as may be provided by law."

The Act of 31st of March, 1876 (P. L., 18), Section 17, provides:

"In all cases where a City containing over three hundred thousand inhabitants is co-extensive in boundaries with the county, all of the officers known therein as City Treasurer, City Controller, City Commissioners, shall severally be regarded as county officers, and as such shall severally be subject to all the provisions of this act, and shall have all the powers and perform all the duties herein enjoined, and be subject to the same penalties as if they had each been elected or appointed as county officers, and had been designated as such."

It is, of course, clear that by virtue of the adoption of the Constitution and the passage of the Act of 1876, the City Treasurer must be regarded as and is, in law, a County Treasurer. This point was settled beyond doubt by the decision of the Supreme Court in Commonwealth ex. rel. the Attorney General vs. Taggart, 102 Pennsylvania, 354.

The fact is, however, of no significance unless by reason of the Treasurer becoming a county officer, there exists in law no provision to fill a vacancy except under the Act of 1874. If such is the case, then and only in such event, the Governor must fill the vacancy.

The Act of 15th of May, 1874 (P. L., 205), provides:

"That in case of a vacancy happening by death, resignation or otherwise, in any office created by the Constitution or laws of this Commonwealth, and where provision is not already made by said Constitution and laws to fill said vacancy, it shall be the duty of the Governor to appoint a suitable person to fill such office, who shall be confirmed by the Senate, if in session, and who shall continue therein and discharge the duties thereof till the first Monday of January next succeeding the first general election which shall occur three or more months after the happening of such vacancy."

In Commonwealth vs. Taggart already referred to, the right to the Governor to fill a vacancy in the office of City Controller of Philadelphia, was sustained under this Act. The Commonwealth contended in that case, that no provision had been made by law to fill a vacancy in that office, and hence the appointment was in the executive.

Councils claimed the right to fill the vacancy and elected Mr. Taggart. When asked for their authority they were forced to rely alone on the 46th Section of the Act of 1854, which provides:

"Whenever any elective officer of said City shall die or become incapable of fulfilling the duties of his office, his place, except where other provision is made for filling the vacancy, shall be filled by a joint vote of City Councils until the next City election and the qualification of a successor in office; Provided, That such vacancy shall exist at least thirty days before the next City election, otherwise such vacancy shall be filled at the next election thereafter."

The question then upon which the case turned was, whether the City Controller was "an elective officer of the City," and the determination that he was not a City but a county officer took him out of the reach of the 46th Section, and there being no other provision in law for this selection of a successor, the case fell directly within the provisions of the Act of 1874.

If there be no law giving to any one, or anybody, the right to select a successor to Mr. Bardsley, then the decision in the Taggart case applies, and the Governor can and must appoint.

The officer directed by the 10th Section of the Act of 1854, to be elected by the qualified voters of the City of Philadelphia is denominated a City Treasurer. It must be borne in mind, however, that Section 1 of the Act provides:

"That the corporate name of the Mayor, Aldermen and citizens of Philadelphia shall be changed to 'The City of Philadelphia,' and the boundaries of the said City shall be extended, so as to embrace the whole of the territory of the county of Philadelphia, and all the powers of the said corporation, as enlarged and modified by this Act, shall be exercised and have effect within the said county, and over the inhabitants thereof."

The scheme of government provided by the Act was to act upon and apply to the county and inhabitants thereof.

The officer named in Section 10 was to be the Treasurer. He is, it is true, styled City Treasurer, but he is "to keep and account for all public moneys and property entrusted to his care." He is "to pay into the treasury of the State the amount of the State tax assessed within the limits of the said City." He is further to give bond "conditioned for the safe keeping of and accounting for all moneys received by him for the use of the State."

In point of fact, since 1854, the City and the County of Philadelphia has had but one Treasurer. He has exercised the powers devolving on him under the Act of 1854, and has also exercised every power and performed every duty vested in or imposed upon County Treasurers, eo nomine, by Acts prior to 1854. Thus he has:

Collected the license for bagatelle rooms, to be paid to County Treasurers under the act of 11th May, 1853, P. L., 673.

Performed the duties imposed upon the County Treasurer of Philadelphia by the Act of 16th April, 1849, P. L., 657, entitled "An Act to change the mode of granting tavern licenses in the City and County of Philadelphia."

Collected the license fee required to be paid "to the Treasurer of the proper county," under the Act of 10th April, 1849, P. L., 573, for billiard rooms, bowling saloons, or ten-pin alleys, restaurants, and dealers in patent medicines.

[It may be instructive to note that in this last Act in Section 19 the Legislature speaks of "the Treasurer of the proper county," in Section 20 of "the County Treasurer of the proper city and county," and in Section 21 of "the proper City or County Treasurer."]

Discharged the duties imposed upon "the Treasurer of the proper city or county" by the Act of 21st April, 1846, P. L., 415, and 16th April, 1845, P. L., 533, relating to mercantile taxes.

Made the collections and payments required to be made by "the respective County Treasurers" by the Act of 29th of April, 1844, P. L., 499.

Issued broker's licenses required under the terms of the Act of 27th May, 1841, P. L., 396, which requires "the Treasurer of the proper county" to grant the commissions or (licenses).

Made the returns required to be made by "the Treasurer of each county" under the Act of 11th June, 1840, P. L., 612.

Kept the separate accounts of all moneys received by him on behalf of the Commonwealth from :

I. Licenses granted to hawkers and peddlers.

II. Licenses to tavern keepers.

III. Licenses to retailers of foreign merchandise.

IV. Taxes assessed for the use of the Commonwealth, which the Act of 15th April, 1834, P. L., 542, made it the duty of "every County Treasurer to keep."

Settled his accounts with the Auditor-General as required by the Act of 3d of May, 1832, P. L., 417, and 25th of March, 1831, P. L., 209.

Collected the licenses imposed upon hawkers and peddlers which the Act of 2d April, 1830, P. L., 148, made it the duty of "County Treasurers" to account for.

In this connection the opinion of the Court in Philadelphia vs. Martin and Philadelphia vs. Irvine, 125 Pa., 583, is applicable. The Court there said "A review of the legislation of Pennsylvania established beyond controversy that almost from the foundation of the Commonwealth, County Treasurers have been required not only to perform the special duties connected with the office to which they were appointed or elected for the county, but at the same time to act as the officer or agent of the State discharging the most important trusts in connection with the collection of its revenue.

It seems to me then, that a vacancy in the office of Treasurer, whether he be termed City Treasurer, as in the Act of 1854, or County Treasurer, as in the new Constitution or in the Act of 1876, is, within the meaning of Section 10 of the Act of 1854, "a vacancy in said office."

Neither the Constitution nor the Act made any change in the office.

It must be borne in mind that there is in fact no distinction between the City and County of Philadelphia. There is a distinction in law, but the Legislature has ignored it. Thus the Act of June 1st, 1885, says: "In cities of the first-class the executive power shall be vested in the Mayor and in the executive departments authorized by this act," and in Article 2 it is provided that there "shall be the following Executive Departments," the fourth named being "the Department of City Treasurer."

In the Act of 14th May, 1874, P. L., 175, the Treasurer is spoken of as "the Treasurer of the City of Philadelphia."

In the Act of 18th April, 1878, we find it provided that "whenever a Treasurer of a city of the first-class," etc.

In the Act of 20th April, 1887, we find reference again to the Treasurer of cities of the first-class.

Briefly, in conclusion, then, under the Act of 1841, the power to fill the vacancy in the office of County Treasurer was vested in the County Commissioners.

Under the Act of 1854, the power to fill a vacancy was vested in Councils, and the only question to be considered is whether or not the power of selection to fill a vacancy so imposed under the Act of 1854 in Councils has been repealed by the Constitution or subsequent legislation.

The Constitution designated the Treasurer of Philadelphia a county officer, but in no wise repealed the provision of the Act of 1854 so far as the power of filling a vacancy in that office is concerned.

The Constitution gave to the Governor of the Commonwealth the power to fill the vacancies in offices in which provision by law and the Constitution has not been made for the filling of vacancies.

The Act of May 15th, 1874, provides that in case of vacancy in any office created by the Constitution or laws of this Commonwealth, it shall be the duty of the Governor to appoint a suitable person to fill such office, but only in those cases where provision is not already made by said Constitution and laws.

In this case under consideration, in the organic laws of thi

City, provision is made to fill a vacancy in the office of Treasurer, whose duties relate to the County as well as to the City.

The Constitution making the Treasurer a county officer, therein did not repeal the provision of the Act of 1854 giving power to Councils to fill a vacancy, because it cannot be contended that the Legislature could not vest in Councils the right to fill a vacancy in a county office, and the Constitution designating this as a county office, does not by the mere designation repeal an Act which provides specially for the filling of a vacancy in that office.

The mere fact that by the Constitution this office is placed in a particular class, in no wise repeals any Act that provides for the filling of a vacancy in said office.

The power vested in Councils in 1854 in relation to the filling of any vacancy in this particular office has not been repealed directly or by implication, in the Constitution or the Acts of 1874 and 1876. The Constitution and the Acts just referred to simply gave power to the Governor to fill vacancies only in those cases in which provision had not been made by law, and the provision in the Act of 1854, in relation to this particular office in this particular county, was known to the framers of the Constitution and the Acts of 1874 and 1876, and that provision has in no wise been affected simply by the classification and designation of the official who holds said office.

In the case of Commonwealth against Taggart, Councils claimed a right to fill a vacancy caused in the office of City Controller, and attempted to exercise their authority under the following portion of Section 46 of the Act of 1854:

“Whenever any elective officer of said city shall die or become incapable of fulfilling the duties of his office, his place, except where such provision is made for filling the vacancy, shall be filled by a joint vote of the City Councils.”

The case simply turned upon the point as to whether or not the Controller was a city or county officer.

But, it will at once be seen that there is a vast difference between that case and the one under consideration. There was no special provision in that Act for the filling of the vacancy in office of the City Controller as in the office of City Treasurer. There was no special section, as in the case of the Treasurer, providing for the election in case of vacancy “by a joint meeting of Councils and by a viva voce vote.”

The power to fill a vacancy in the office of Treasurer is vested by law in Councils. The Governor is authorized to fill vacancies in those cases only where provision is not made by law, and I am therefore of opinion that the vacancy created by the resignation of Mr. Bardsley is to be filled by Councils.

As to your third question, I answer that I am of opinion that a member of Councils is not eligible to fill the vacancy. Act 18th March, 1863, Section 2, P. L., 143:

"No member of Councils of said City shall be eligible to any office, employment or agency, directly or indirectly, chosen by Councils, or either branch of them, during the term for which he shall have been elected to Councils."

Act 2, February, 1854, Section 4:

"* * * * * nor shall any member of said Councils, during the term for which he shall have been elected, hold any office or employment herein created or provided for of a municipal character."

(Section 10 provides for City Treasurer.)

Act 11th March, 1869, Section 2, P. L., 317:

"No member of said Councils shall hereafter hold any office or employment in the choice of said Councils, during the term for which he shall have been elected."

Act 15th May, 1874, Section 11, P. L., 186.

"No member of Council of any City, shall be eligible to any office, employment or agency, directly chosen by Councils or either branch of them, during the term for which he shall have been elected to Councils.

"Sect. 13. No member of said Councils shall hereafter hold any office or employment in the choice of said Councils during the term for which he shall have been elected."

Yours respectfully,

CHAS. F. WARWICK,
City Solicitor.

HANCOCK AND PRICE STREETS, GERMANTOWN.

MR. CHARLES ROBERTS,
Chairman Sub-Committee,
Vernon Park, Philadelphia.

DEAR SIR:—Mr. Meehan has shown me the ordinance authorizing the City Solicitor to proceed to take possession of Vernon Park as soon as guarantees by citizens are deposited with the City Solicitor that twenty thousand (20,000) dollars of any amount a jury may award shall be paid into the Treasury by them.

As one of the owners of this property, anxious that it should be forever preserved to the citizens as a public park, I have already contributed to pledges the citizens are raising. I am sure they will secure the whole sum. But, in order that there may be no delay in your action, I hereby pledge myself and authorize the City Solicitor to deduct from any sum awarded me by a jury, twenty thousand (20,000) dollars, in case pledges to that amount should not be deposited at the time the award is made.

I make this offer only on condition that the proceedings for taking the property are begun during the present year.

Will you please deposit this with the City Solicitor, as my pledge, as soon as Councils have passed the ordinance.

Very truly yours,

CHAS. WISTER.

AN ORDINANCE

To authorize the opening of Vernon Park, in the Twenty-second Ward.

WHEREAS, The citizens of the Twenty-second Ward have given pledges to subscribe twenty thousand (20,000) dollars towards the payment of any damages that may be awarded by reason of the City's taking immediate possession of Vernon Park, as placed on the City plan by ordinance approved November 29th, 1890;

SECTION 1. The Select and Common Councils of the City of Philadelphia do ordain, That the City Solicitor is hereby authorized and directed forthwith to notify the owner or owners of property contained within the boundaries of Vernon Park, in the Twenty-second Ward, that, at the expiration of three months from the date of said notice, said property will be required for public use.

SECT. 2. At the expiration of said three months the Mayor is hereby authorized and directed to enter security in the name of the City for the payment of any damages that may be awarded by reason of the taking of said property, and thereupon possession of the same shall be taken for public use; Provided, That an agreement shall be first filed with the City Solicitor by Charles Wister, authorizing the City Solicitor to deduct the sum of twenty thousand (20,000) dollars from the award to him in case pledges to that amount should not be deposited at the time the award is made; Provided, also, That proceedings for the taking of the property are begun during the present year.

APPENDIX No. 94.

Philadelphia, May, 28, 1891.

To the Select and Common Councils
of the City of Philadelphia.

GENTLEMEN:—The Committee on Municipal Government, to which was referred the bill entitled “An Ordinance to amend an ordinance entitled ‘An Ordinance establishing rules for the government of the City Morgue, and the authority to appoint a Superintendent and Assistant Superintendent by the Commissioner of Markets and City Property,’” approved December 30th, 1870, respectfully report that they have examined the same, return it to Councils with a negative recommendation, and recommend the passage of the annexed resolution, discharging the committee from the subject.

Uselma C. Smith (Ch’n), Chas. Roberts, Peter Monroe, Thos. M. Hammett, C. Oscar Beasley, Thos. Wagner, Jr., Edward Morrell, Wm. Moffet, John Seanlin, Nathan T. Lewis, Geo. W. Kendrick, Jr., Judson C. Keith, W. H. Baker, Robert Ingram, Jas. B. Anderson.

The Sub-Committee on the “Ordinance to amend the ordinance establishing rules for the government of the City Morgue,” etc., respectfully report that they have given the subject the best attention, with the following results.

Summed up briefly, the law, as it now exists, covers the following points:

1. The ordinance of December, 1870, places the Morgue in charge of the Commissioner of City Property, who appoints the Superintendent, who is to have charge of the property, and keep a record of the dead, missing, clothing, and effects of the dead. Bodies are received on the order of the Coroner, or Chief of Police, or without the order, when the Superintendent is satisfied the body was found dead in the street or drowned.

2. Papers, money, and all other valuables shall be put in a package, and the Superintendent shall keep a record and be held responsible for the same.

3. On the first of each month the Superintendent shall make report of all facts on his books to the Chief of the Bureau of Markets, and a duplicate to the Mayor.

4. Clothes and other effects of the unrecognized shall be preserved for six months; and of the identified, given to the representatives of the deceased.

5. At the end of each year the Superintendent shall deliver the effects of the unidentified to the Chief, Bureau of City Property, which shall be sold at public sale, and the proceeds put into the City Treasury.

The proposed amendment does little more than place the power of appointment of a Superintendent in the hands of the Coroner; all the duties of the Superintendent remaining practically the same, except that the Coroner may make such other regulations as he thinks desirable.

The Coroner disclaims any desire for a change; he has no difficulty in getting his desires acceded to. As an abstract principle he believes the appointment of a Superintendent should be in his hands. On the other hand, the Chief, Bureau of City Property, will still have to be responsible for City property embraced in the Morgue, though the Superintendent should be appointed by the Coroner.

There seems to be no practical reason for the change proposed. During the examination it seemed possible that the whole ordinance needs a thorough revision. No account is kept of the effects of the unidentified dead, as nothing of value reaches the Superintendent, whatever there may be of this character being removed by the police or Coroner, and, as the Coroner explained to the Chairman of the Sub-Committee, used to defray the expenses of burial. It would be better if this were provided for in some way by ordinance. As there seems to be nothing in the hands of the Superintendent but old, and often unhealthy, clothing, some discretion should be given for destroying, rather than providing for a public sale of all.

There is a possibility that the whole of the land on which the Morgue stands will be condemned for railroad purposes. As no practical difficulty occurs from the present method of appointments, it would seem best to await the event, and then pass a new ordinance, suited to the new Morgue and new conditions and circumstances.

The committee, therefore, recommend that a resolution to discharge the Committee on Municipal Government from the consideration of the subject be reported to Councils.

Thomas Meehan (Ch'n), Judson C. Keith, Chas. Roberts.

RESOLUTION

To discharge the Committee on Municipal Government from the consideration of an ordinance to amend an ordinance entitled "An Ordinance establishing rules for the government of the City Morgue, and the authority to appoint a Superintendent and an Assistant Superintendent by the Commissioner of Markets and City Property," approved December 3d, 1870.

Resolved, by the Select and Common Councils of the City of Philadelphia, That the Committee on Municipal Government be, and they are hereby, discharged from the consideration of an ordinance to amend an ordinance entitled "An Ordinance establishing rules for the government of the City Morgue, and the authority to appoint a Superintendent and an Assistant Superintendent by the Commissioner of Markets and City Property," approved December 3d, 1870.

APPENDIX No. 95.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

Philadelphia, June 4, 1891.

To the Select and Common Councils
of the City of Philadelphia.

GENTLEMEN:—On May 21st last, under authority vested in me by the Act of Assembly, approved June 1st, 1885, entitled "An Act to provide for the better government of cities of the first class in this Commonwealth," I appointed three competent persons, Messrs. Taylor Faunce, Lawrence E. Brown, and John S. Kuen, to examine, without notice, the accounts of the Department of City Treasurer, giving them instruction that their examination should be most searching and thorough, and authorizing them to call in any assistance that in their judgment would be required, empowering them to demand any and all papers and books, that in their opinion might bear, even remotely, upon the matter under investigation, and that in case delivery of such papers and books was refused, I would use all means in my power to cause the production of same.

In compliance with these instructions, after a most careful and searching examination, they have presented me a partial report, under date of 3d instant, which covers the subject of "City Funds," and I herewith transmit a correct copy of same.

These experts are at present continuing their examinations to thoroughly investigate and completely audit all moneys received in the Department of City Treasurer during the years of 1889, 1890 and 1891 to May 21st inclusive, which moneys are known as "State Funds." I have given them instructions that in this examination, as in the previous one, they report to me at the earliest possible moment the result of their examination.

Every exertion possible to be made, under the power vested in me by law, is being made to ascertain the exact and true condition of affairs in the Department of City Treasurer, and at the earliest opportunities I will advise you fully of whatever results may be achieved, and feeling thoroughly assured of your earnest and active co-operation in this subject, will submit for your consideration any recommendation concerning legislation in relation thereto which may, in my judgment, seem desirable.

I am, respectfully,

EDWIN S. STUART,
Mayor.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

Philadelphia, June 3, 1891.

HON. EDWIN S. STUART,
Mayor of Philadelphia.

DEAR SIR:—The undersigned, appointed by you May 21st, 1891, under the provisions of the Act of Assembly of June 1st, 1885, to examine and report upon the account of City Treasurer, having in mind your verbal instructions, subsequently embodied in writing, to the effect that it was your desire that our examination should be most searching, and empowering us to call in any assistance that in our judgment would be required; to demand any and all papers and books that in our opinion might bear, even remotely, upon the matter under investigation; and further promising to us all means in your power to cause the production of such books and papers, should delivery of the same be refused, beg to submit to your consideration:

First.—The line of inquiry which they have adopted in furtherance of your instructions for a full and exhaustive investigation of said account; and Secondly.—A preliminary report of the results of their investigation into certain points of said inquiry.

The course of inquiry is as follows:

First, a.—To ascertain from the books of the City Treasurer the balance to the credit of City funds account at the close of business, May 21st, 1891, said balance to be certified by the City Controller.

b. To ascertain if the amount of cash actually in the hands of the City Treasurer of said City corresponds with the required balance.

Second, a.—To ascertain the amount of State funds received by the Treasurer during 1889, 1890, and 1891, to May 23d, inclusive, as shown by the books kept by the Chief Clerk in the Treasurer's office; in what banks the same was deposited originally; the amount thereof subsequently transferred to other banks or depositories.

b. The amount thereof paid to or for account of the State of Pennsylvania; the amount thereof paid to or for account of the City of Philadelphia; the amount thereof paid for purposes which cannot be identified as being either for the account of the State or of the City, and the present condition of accounts arising from the use of the amounts so paid.

c. The amount now in banks or depositories.

d. The equitable interests of the State and of the City respectively in the funds and assets remaining to the credit of the Treasurer.

Third.—To ascertain what moneys, other than those known as City or State funds, were received by the City Treasurer by virtue of his office, and the disposition that has been made of the same.

Fourth.—To ascertain, if possible, the extent to which City moneys were improperly used to carry checks, due bills, warrants, and other evidences of indebtedness.

Our inquiry as to the City funds has elicited the following facts:

The balance belonging to the City Treasurer at the close of business, May 21st, 1891, as per statement of D. C. King, Chief Clerk, which statement awaits the confirmation of the City Controller, consists of and amounts to:

SECOND NATIONAL BANK.

Certified by officials of said bank	48,000 00
The above amount exceeds the amount shown in the books of the City Treasurer to the extent of $4,000, which sum represents City Treasurer's check No. 227 on the Second National Bank, payment of which was by him countermanded after same had been deposited in the Keystone National Bank, thus increasing City Treasurer's balance in Second National Bank from $44,000, as claimed by him, to $48,000, and decreasing the balance in Keystone National Bank, as claimed by the City Treasurer, a corresponding amount.

THIRD NATIONAL BANK.

Balance certified by officials of said bank.....	351,276 80
The above balance, which corresponds with the amount shown in the books of the City Treasurer, includes unpaid certificate of deposit No. 1,151, issued by the Spring Garden National Bank May 7th, 1891, for the sum of $4,402.25, the same being gas moneys collected at the Spring Garden office of the Bureau of Gas.

KEYSTONE NATIONAL BANK.

Balance shown in the books of City Treasurer, less his check, No. 227, on Second National Bank for $4,000, payment of which was countermanded, after the same had been deposited in Keystone National Bank.....	437,554 32
The above balance of $437,554.32, being considerably less than the amount shown in the books of the bank as claimed by the United States officials, now in charge of said bank, is subject to the several exceptions hereinafter noted.
Cash in hands of Receiving Teller.....	68,687 52
Cash in hands of Paying Teller.....	79,588 59
Making the total amount of City funds in hands.....	$3,469,387 98
Which amount corresponds with the required amount shown in the books of the City Treasurer.

Reviewing what has thus far been shown, it appears, with the exceptions noted as to the balance in the Keystone National Bank, to the credit of the City Treasurer, to which attention will be presently given, that your Committee has found the funds in the City Treasury, at the close of business, May 21st, 1891, to be $32,317,608.50, which amount represents the required balance to the credit of the City on said date, as shown by the statement of D. C. King, the Chief Clerk of the City Treasurer.

Bank Examiner William P. Drew and Receiver R. M. Yardley claim that the balance to the credit of City Treasurer Bardsley on the books of the Keystone National Bank is $639,369.89; whereas the balance in said bank, to the credit of the said Treasurer, is $437,554.32, according to the books of the City Treasurer.

Our investigation furnishes the following particulars in reconciliation of the difference between these two statements:

Taking the balance to the credit of the City Treasurer on the books of the Keystone National Bank as claimed by the United States officials in charge of said bank	$639,369 19
And adding thereto a deposit made by the City Treasurer in said bank, March 19th, 1891, which does not appear credited on the books of the bank	318 79

No. 14,477, dated March 19th, issued to the City Treasurer for certain State funds included in city fund deposits	760 22
And sundry charges on the books of the bank against this account, of which the City Treasurer's accounts, as far as examined, show me no record and concerning which the officials of said bank can offer no satisfactory explanation.

And it further appears that Mr. Bardsley, presumably with a view of concealing the true balance to his credit, as Treasurer, in the Keystone National Bank, has voluntarily and without warrant of authority, paid into the City Treasury the sum of one hundred and ninety-six thousand and forty-three (196,043) dollars and ten (10) cents obtained from sources not now definitely known, in substitution of certain of his unpaid checks as City Treasurer on said bank, all of which were carried as cash in the cash-drawer of Paying Teller Gallagher, of the City Treasurer's Office, and subsequently he made request, of the United States officials in charge of the Keystone National Bank, that the same be charged to his account as City Treasurer and credited to his personal account.

In regard to the third point of our inquiry, which relates to moneys in the hands of the City Treasurer other than those known as City or State Funds, our investigation has thus far disclosed a misappropriation by the City Treasurer of the sum of thirty-nine thousand five hundred and seventy-six (39,576) dollars belonging to City Contractors under their contracts with the Highway Department.

The particulars of the investigation leading to the discovery of this misappropriation, which were given to you at length in our communication of the 23d inst., are substantially as follows:

On the 23d inst., an examination of the ledger containing the accounts with City Contractors under the Highway Department, disclosed the fact that the following balances stood to the credit of said contractors for ten per cent. deposits on the amount of their contracts:

David McMahon.....	$9,400 00
Edward Bennis.....	704 00

Total.....	$76,690 35

From a further examination of books kept by Chief Clerk King, of the City Treasurer's office, it appeared that the above sum of seventy-six thousand six hundred and ninety (76,690) dollars and thirty-five (35) cents was then in the following banks:

Keystone National Bank.....	$35,801 55
Third National Bank.....	40,888 80
Total.....	$76,690 35

The bank books were then left with the banks to be balanced; after which a letter was prepared for Mr. King's signature, of which the following is a copy:

Philadelphia, May 23, 1891.

TO MESSRS. FAUNCE, BROWN & KUEN,
Special Committee of Investigation.

GENTLEMEN:—In response to your inquiry as to the amount of moneys deposited with the City Treasurer by contractors of the Highway Department, and remaining to their credit on the books kept for the purpose of said City Treasurer, being the ten per cent. required by law to be furnished by said contractors, I beg to report that there is now a balance of seventy-six thousand six hundred and ninety (76,690) dollars and thirty-five (35) cents deposited as follows:

Keystone National Bank.....	$35,801 55
Third National Bank.....	40,888 80
Total.....	<hr/> $76,690 35

Very truly,
D. C. KING.

Annexed is a statement of the amounts due the various contractors agreeing with the above.

The Keystone National Bank book when balanced showed a balance of thirty-five thousand eight hundred and one (35,801) dollars and fifty-five (55) cents, which amount agrees with the required balance, but the Third National Bank book showed a balance of one thousand three hundred and twelve (1,312) dollars and eighty (80) cents, instead of forty thousand eight hundred and eighty-eight (40,888) dollars and eighty (80) cents as required. The difference of thirty-nine thousand five hundred and seventy-six (39,576) dollars having been withdrawn on May 15th, 1891, upon John Bardsley's check for that amount, and the proceeds thereof given to Paying Teller Gallagher of City Treasurer's office to replace a like amount of the City Treasurer's unpaid checks on the Keystone National Bank, which had been carried for some time as cash in the cash drawer.

Our investigation as to the second item of our inquiry which relates to State funds gives us the following facts:

APPENDIX No. 113.

Philadelphia, June 2, 1891.

To the Select and Common Councils
of the City of Philadelphia.

GENTLEMEN :—We, your Committee on Surveys, to whom was referred the accompanying communication from the Mayor, concerning the contract awarded to Frank Knapp for building a sewer on Oxford street, beg leave to report that the facts in the case, and the advantage to accrue to the City by an alteration in the contract, are set forth in the report of the Sub-Committee, which is hereto attached and made part hereof. We report with a favorable recommendation an ordinance to amend the ordinance to construct the sewer and to compensate the contractor for loss incurred thereby.

Thomas L. Hicks (Ch'n), P. A. McClain, Thos. Wagner, Jr., Wm. Horrocks, Hiram A. Miller, W. H. James, D. C. Cleaver, John O. Taxis, Frank A. Gilbert, Jacob J. Seeds, A. E. Jones, Chas. Seger, L. W. Moore, Wm. P. Becker, A. McKnight.

Philadelphia, June 2, 1891.

COMMITTEE ON SURVEYS.

GENTLEMEN :—Your Sub-Committee, to whom was referred the communication of His Honor, the Mayor, relative to Oxford street sewer contract, beg leave to report that by using a sewer built through private property by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, who assent to its use by the City, the building of a deep and expensive sewer on Oxford street, from Thirtieth street to Thirty-third street, can be avoided, and much less expensive sewers can be built near the surface, better adapted to the requirements of property-owners for house connections, by which over nine thousand (9,000) dollars can be saved to the City. A branch sewer on Thirty-third street, from Oxford street to Jefferson street, should be authorized to complete the necessary connections with the Thirtieth street main sewer.

An award to Frank Knapp for a tunnel at seven (7) dollars and forty (40) cents per foot, amounting to fourteen thousand nine hundred and seventy-three (14,973) dollars, has been reduced in length by the Director of Public Works, by authority contained in said contract.

That part of the sewer which has been built under the contract is mostly in made ground, at the depth of 40 feet below the surface, and worth more than the average of seven (7) dollars and forty (40) cents per foot, the whole length. Your Committee have examined the subject, and think that an allowance of ten (10) dollars per foot would be equitable, which, with allowance for manholes built, and shafts dug out and refilled with wooden shoring used, amounts to four thousand and twenty-one (4,021) dollars, and a saving to the City of over nine thousand (9,000) dollars.

We recommend the passage of the annexed ordinance.

W. H. James, Thos. Wagner, Jr., Hiram A. Miller, Jas. B. Anderson, John O. Taxis, John Morrison, Isaac D. Hetzell, D. C. Cleaver.

AN ORDINANCE

To repeal part of an ordinance to authorize the construction of a sewer on Oxford street, from a point one hundred and sixty-nine feet west of Twenty-ninth street to Thirty-third street, and to authorize the drawing of a warrant in favor of Frank Knapp in settlement therefor.

SECTION 1. The Select and Common Councils of the City of Philadelphia do ordain, That so much of the ordinance approved February 6th, 1891, entitled "An Ordinance to authorize the construction of sewers on Adams, Broad, Cedar, Carlisle, Cumberland, Charlotte, Dakota, Dennie, Eighteenth, Fifth, Forty-two-and-three-quarters, "G," Hazzard, "K," Lehman, Morris, Marlborough, Norris, Oxford, Ringgold, Shaekamaxon, Stafford, Sepviva, Second, Sixth, Third, Twelfth, Thirtieth, Twenty-fourth, Twenty-fifth, Twenty-sixth, Thirty-third, Thompson, Eyre, Venango, Wayne, Wister and York streets; and Allegheny, Glenwood, Lehigh, Mantua, Pulaski, Park and Ridge avenues, as provides for the construction of the sewer on Oxford street, between Thirty-first street and Thirty-second street, be and the same is hereby repealed.

SECT. 2. The Department of Public Works is hereby authorized to draw, and the City Controller requested to approve, a warrant in favor of Frank Knapp for the sum of four thousand and twenty-one (4,021) dollars, as an equitable settlement for materials furnished and work done by him as contractor for the construction of the said sewer, under his contract awarded to him March 16th, 1891.

SECT. 3. All ordinances or parts of ordinances inconsistent herewith be, and the same are hereby, repealed.

SIR:—I am directed by the Board of Health to transmit to you the following copy of resolution passed this date, and request its transmission to Councils.

Respectfully yours,

WM. P. TROTH,

Chief Clerk.

RESOLUTION.

Resolved, That City Councils be, and are hereby, respectfully requested to pass an ordinance authorizing the construction of a sewer on Lex street, between Fairmount avenue and Aspen street, as a sanitary measure, the dwelling-houses on the east side of Lex street having no outlet for surface drainage.

See attached report of Chief Inspector Kennedy.

OFFICE OF THE BOARD OF HEALTH,

Philadelphia, June 6, 1891.

A. A. HIRST, ESQ.,

Secretary.

SIR:—The complaint herewith appended is well-founded, and arises from the fact that when the land was plotted for the erection of the dwelling-houses on the east side of Lex street, north of Fairmount avenue, no provision was made for an outlet to the alley in the rear, but until recently the house and surface drainage was permitted to flow over an open lot adjoining.

The lot referred to is now being improved by the erection of dwelling-houses, completely cutting off the flow of surface drainage, and causing it to accumulate in the alley and yards, which must finally overflow into cellars.

The only remedy is in the placing of a sewer on Lex street, south from Aspen street to Fairmount avenue, and I would therefore urge upon you the importance of having City Councils make provision for the construction of a sewer as above indicated, otherwise the nuisance must increase and become a serious menace to the health of the occupants of the dwellings in the immediate vicinity.

Respectfully submitted,

CHARLES F. KENNEDY,

Chief Inspector.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

To the Select and Common Councils
of the City of Philadelphia.

GENTLEMEN:—I have the honor to herewith transmit for your consideration, a communication from James H. Windrim, Director of the Department of Public Works, concerning the dangerous condition of the bridge over the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad at Girard avenue.

I am, respectfully,

EDWIN S. STUART,

Mayor.

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS,

Philadelphia, June 10, 1891.

HON. EDWIN S. STUART,

Mayor of the City of Philadelphia.

DEAR SIR:—The dangerous condition of the bridge over the Reading Railroad at Girard avenue is such as to require reconstruction at the earliest possible moment. It has been regarded as in an unsafe condition for years, both by the officials of the City and the Railroad Company, and is constantly growing worse, the iron girders being eaten into by rust and decay. About two years ago the Railroad Company placed a temporary trestle in the middle, with the understanding that the City and Railroad Company would join in building a bridge of greater length and height (estimated to cost sixty thousand (60,000) dollars) within the ensuing year.

The City made no appropriation in the annual appropriation for this purpose, and the Railroad Company has notified the Department of Public Works that they will not reap sufficient advantage from the increased dimensions to warrant them in bearing any of the cost of the new structure.

To rebuild the iron structure and to retain the old masonry, strengthening the arches by iron-tie rods, and repave the street, will cost thirty-two thousand (32,000) dollars.

The bridge was built originally at the joint cost of the City and the Railroad Company, to avoid a grade-crossing, in the year 1857. It is equitable that they should join with the City in its reconstruction.

If an appropriation is not made speedily, and the bridge rebuilt, so as to avoid the impending danger, very serious accidents may occur, resulting in loss of life and heavy damages.

Yours truly,

JAS. H. WINDRIM,

Director.

Washington, D. C.

SIR:—I have the honor, in compliance with a resolution of the Select and Common Councils of the City of Philadelphia, passed at their meeting yesterday afternoon, to request on behalf of the City of Philadelphia, that you cause a thorough investigation to be made into the action of the United States Treasury Department, with regard to its delay in closing the Keystone National Bank, of Philadelphia, and its appointment of the Receiver for the said bank; that the Comptroller of the Currency be instructed to appear before the Committee of these Councils appointed to investigate the said bank, and that the Receiver of said bank be directed to permit the said committee, or its expert accountants, to examine and inspect any and all of the books, documents and records of the said bank.

This request is made in the knowledge that in this, as in all other cases, your sole desire is to aid to the fullest extent of your powers the ends of justice, and in the belief that information and assistance of inestimable value to the City and to the citizens of Philadelphia may thereby be obtained.

I am, respectfully,

[Signed.]

EDWIN S. STUART,
Mayor.

EXECUTIVE MANSION,

Washington, June 8, 1891.

HON. EDWIN S. STUART,

Mayor of the City of Philadelphia.

SIR:—I am in receipt of your letter of June 5th, and in reply thereto beg to say:

The Comptroller of the Currency is, under the law, in immediate, and in a large sense, independent control of all matters pertaining to national banks. Everything relating to the examination of such banks, to the appointment of receivers, and the winding up of insolvent banks is under his direction. An examination of the relations of his office to the Keystone National Bank will, therefore, disclose all that has been done by the Treasury Department. The Secretary of the Treasury was absent when your letter was received, but upon his return this morning I conferred with him and the Comptroller, and, as a result of that conference, the Comptroller stated that he would prepare at once a full statement of his entire action in connection with the Keystone National Bank, of Philadelphia; and would submit this report without delay to the Secretary of the Treasury, who will transmit a copy to you.

Your request that a Committee of the Council, or its expert accountants, be allowed to examine and inspect all the books, documents, and records of the bank, has been referred to the Comptroller, with the suggestion that under the advice of the District Attorney, the Receiver permit an examination, by a proper representative of the creditors, into all matters and accounts, and particularly of accounts where frauds or irregularities are charged, with such reservation of confidence as the interest of the creditors of the bank and the ends of public justice make necessary.

I am sure you will find every officer of the Government, having any public duty connected with this matter, desirous to co-operate with the creditors of the bank in all measures calculated to protect their interest, and to hold to proper accountability every person having guilty complicity with the failure.

Very truly yours,

[Signed.]

BENJ. HARRISON.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

SIR:—I beg to acknowledge receipt of your letter of 8th instant, replying to my communication of 5th instant, advising you of the resolution of the Select and Common Councils of the City of Philadelphia, in relation to the United States Treasury Department, and to express my appreciation and thanks for the courtesy of your prompt action. Your letter will be placed before City Councils at their next meeting, Thursday, 11th instant, at 3 P. M.

I am, respectfully,

[Signed.]

EDWIN S. STUART,

The President replying to my communication, relating to City Councils' action concerning Keystone National Bank, informs me that you will forward copy of statement of Comptroller of the Currency as soon as possible. I very much desire this statement to-morrow, Thursday afternoon, by three o'clock, that I may transmit it, together with the President's letter, to City Councils in session then, and not again until following week. It will be a great accommodation if this request can possibly be granted.

APPENDIX No. 122.

RESOLUTION

Of request to the Mayor to transmit a certain statement to Sub-Committee on Finance on City Treasury investigation.

Resolved, by the Common Council of the City of Philadelphia, That the Mayor be, and is hereby, requested to transmit directly to the Sub-Committee of the Committee on Finance, now engaged in the investigation of the City Treasury Department, the statement of the Comptroller of the Currency of the United States, referred to in the Mayor's communication of this date, in case the said statement is received by the Mayor prior to the next meeting of Council.

APPENDIX No. 123.

OFFICE OF THE CITY CONTROLLER,

Philadelphia, June 10, 1891.

To the Select and Common Councils
of the City of Philadelphia.

GENTLEMEN:—In accordance with Ordinance of November 6th, 1862, defining the "Powers and Duties" of the Controller of the City, that "he shall from time to time and as often as he may deem necessary, or the City Councils shall direct, suggest plans to Councils for the improvement and management of the City finances, and shall upon the discovery of any default or delinquency, report the same to City Councils."

I have the honor to submit for your consideration, the following exhibit of the results of an audit compiled by this Department, from the returns rendered the Controller by the City Treasurer, from January 1st to June 1st, 1891, as per the Act of June 1st, 1885.

Embracing also in these figures, information ascertained, after careful scrutiny, from the department of that official in conformity with the authority vested in that of the Controller, which, under the ordinance before mentioned, prescribe his absolute supervision of the fiscal concerns of all departments, bureaus, and offices intrusted with the collection or disbursement of public moneys, or who are charged with the management or custody thereof, and shall immediately, upon the resignation of any officer, settle and audit the accounts of such officer.

CITY FUNDS.—I append herewith, detailed statements as follows:

Showing, 1st. The monthly receipts and expenditures from January 1st, 1891, to June 1st, 1891, together with total amount in City Treasury, as shown by the various banks in which all moneys on hand had been deposited immediately preceding the assumption of the duties of the office of the City Treasurer, by Mr. R. G. Oellers.

2d. The total Sinking Fund securities, together with cash balance to the credit of the Sinking Funds in the Philadelphia National Bank.

From a review of the statements appended, it will be perceived that the only loss in the City funds will be that held by the two banks, the Keystone and the Spring Garden, now in course of liquidation: the balance as shown June 1st, 1891, amounting to four million six hundred and ten thousand seven hundred and sixty-nine (4,610,769) dollars and thirty-three (33) cents, being charged to the new City Treasurer, Mr. Bardsley's successor in office.

With regard to the amount of balance now held by the Keystone National Bank, it is to be hoped that the Receiver now in charge will permit that proportion claimed by the City as having been deposited on the 20th of March, 1891, the date of the closing of the bank, amounting to twenty-eight thousand seven hundred and sixty-two (28,762) dollars and fifty-four (54) cents, to be returned instead of merging it with the City deposits made prior to that date.

The balance of cash shown here amounting to eight hundred and sixty thousand four hundred and ninety-five (860,495) dollars and fifty-two (52) cents to the credit of the Sinking Fund, in the Philadelphia National Bank, has, by a resolution of the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund, with the approval of the Finance Committee, been directed to be used in purchasing for the benefit of said Sinking Fund, the remaining portion, two million three hundred thousand (2,300,000) dollars of the new 3 per cent. loan now outstanding. The Sinking Fund purposes selling securities now held by them to provide for the difference necessary with the cash on hand, to make the purchase, and within sixty days they will be enabled to take up the loan in full.

STATE FUNDS.—This department is unable to furnish accurate information regarding the condition of the State Funds received on account of the State by the late City Treasurer, as no return is made of them to the Controller, excepting those collected by the Receiver of Taxes.

All fees for licenses for liquors, brewers, distillers, bottlers, auctioneers, restaurants, hotels, brokers, peddlers, employment agencies, billiard tables, and amusements, are paid direct to the City Treasurer on account of the State, the control of which this department is in no way liable or responsible for.

The State authorities claim, and it is reported as being now in the hands of the Attorney General for collection, that the County of Philadelphia is liable for the personal taxes collected under the Act of June, 1889.

The amounts are as follows :

	Amount of Personal Tax fixed by the Board of Re- venue Commis- sioners.	Deductions for Collecting Five per cent.	Treasurer's Commission One per cent.	Net Amount of Personal Tax.	Total Payments to State Treasury.	Balance Due Common- wealth.
1889	$532,265 26	$26,613 26	$5,056 52	$500,595 48	$329,700 00	$170,895 48
1890	779,811 22		7,798 11	772,013 11	320,895 48	451,117 63
	$1,312,076 48	$26,613 26	$12,854 63	$1,272,608 59	$650,595 48	$622,013 11

To this should be added the tax due and unpaid on City Loans, December 17th, 1890, amounting to.....	90,612 63
---	-----------

Amount due the State by Mr. Bardsley, for personal taxes collected	$712,625 74
--	--------------

The personal taxes collected from January 1st to June 1st, 1891, for the benefit of the State, are for the first five months as follows :

January.....	$ 35,080 17
February.....	33,900 85
March.....	94,185 64
April.....	47,422 75
May.....	104,253 00
	$314,842 41

The above statement shows that the sum of ninety thousand and six hundred and twelve (90,612) dollars and sixty-three (63) cents for tax on loans, paid to the fiscal agent of the State, Mr. John Bardsley, has not been paid by him to the State authorities, although the City paid the same to Mr. Bardsley on June 18th and December 17th, 1890.

Our correspondence with the State Treasurer shows that the amount due on this tax should be eighty-six thousand and thirty (86,030) dollars and eighty (80) cents; a difference of four thousand and ninety-nine (4,099) dollars and twenty-seven (27) cents.

The Act of June, 1889, allows the City one-third of the net amount of all personal taxes collected by it. The amount of taxes collected under this Act was seven hundred and seventy-nine thousand eight hundred and eleven (779,811) dollars and twenty-two (22) cents, one-third of which sum, after deducting the Treasurer's commissions of seven thousand seven hundred and ninety-eight (7,798) dollars and eleven (11) cents, equals two hundred and fifty-nine thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (259,937) dollars and seven (7) cents, of which the City received on account one hundred and fifty thousand (150,000) dollars, leaving a balance due the City on this account of one hundred and nine thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (109,937) dollars and two (2) cents, to which add the difference on tax on loans, four thousand and ninety-nine (4,099) dollars and twenty-seven (27) cents, shows a balance due the City of one hundred and fourteen thousand and thirty-six (114,036) dollars and thirty-four (34) cents.

The amount of this tax for 1890 was adjusted, in August, between the State Board of Revenue and the Board of Revision of Taxes, in accordance with the Act of June 1st, 1889, which also provides,

"That the taxes imposed upon personal property by the first section of this Act shall be collected by the several counties and cities, and, on the first Monday of September, shall pay unto the State Treasurer all such sum or sums of money as may then have been collected, and shall, on the second Monday of November immediately following, in each year, complete and pay unto the said State Treasurer the whole amount remaining unpaid, and, in default thereof, it shall be the duty of the Auditor-General to add 10 per centum penalty to each county or city on all taxes remaining unpaid on the second Monday of November of each year, which shall be charged in the duplicate against each delinquent taxpayer in arrears on and after said day; Provided, That City or County Treasurers shall be permitted to retain for their own use, from the gross sum of money paid by them into the State Treasury, the commissions named and prescribed by existing laws."

While this is a matter to be settled hereafter by legal authority, this department is certainly of the opinion that a complete settlement of the taxes should be made by the City Treasurer to the State in the same year in which the money is collected.

We are also clear in our opinion that in this dual position the City Treasurer represents the State, and is recognized as a State agent while in the performance of duties to, and on behalf of, the State; and in support of this I beg to refer to the proceedings in the case of the City vs. Jos. J. Martin, City Treasurer, decided April 22d, 1889, for defendant, Court of Common Pleas No. 1, of Philadelphia, and affirmed by the Supreme Court.

"It is also, and even more strongly, contended that the City Treasurer, in acting for the State in the collection of its revenues, and accounting for the same, performs distinct and separate duties, which are imposed on him by the laws of the Commonwealth, and that in the discharge of these duties he does not act for the City, or in his capacity of City Treasurer, but as the officer, agent, or employé of the State."

"A County Treasurer, when called on by the laws-making power of the State to act for the State, is designated by his official title; but it by no means follows that he is any the less the functionary of the Commonwealth when duties and obligations to the State, which are in no way connected with the affairs of the county, are imposed on him, from the performance of which he cannot escape."

For the collection of this personal tax the State pays him a commission of 1 per cent., and in no particular of which, in his rôle as State Agent, is the City pecuniarily benefited.

All moneys collected by the Receiver of Taxes for personal taxes under the Act of June, 1889, are daily paid to the City Treasurer as State Agent, receipts for which are given by the City Treasurer, who keeps a separate and distinct account of them, and deposits the said amounts separately from any other of the City funds.

In the decisions above quoted from, Philadelphia vs. Martin, occurs the following:

"The language of many of these statutes is not without heir significance, describing the duties of City and County Treasurers as trusts for the Commonwealth, and kindred expressions, which, of themselves, show in what light the State regarded County Treasurers when they were required to act for the State in the collection and safekeeping of its revenues, in the issuing of licenses and in bringing suits to recover moneys due to the Commonwealth."

The State goes much farther than this in the manifestation of its purpose to lay hold of the treasurers of counties and make them its own officers, by requiring that in all cases a separate bond shall be given to the Commonwealth, with a condition which shows a clear purpose to make them, in the discharge of their separate duties to the State, the agent, if not the officer of the State. The condition reads: "He shall keep safe and account for all moneys received by him for the use of the Commonwealth, and shall faithfully discharge all duties assigned to him by law in behalf of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania." "The bond which is given to the City is conditioned to perform the duties of City Treasurer as the same are defined by law and the ordinances of the City of Philadelphia." "In every essential particular these bonds differ; each one standing by itself and for the benefit of its separate obligees, and is given to secure different and independent results, one to protect the county and the other the interests of the State."

And again, same case: "Simply by way of illustration, it may not be amiss to refer to the Act of April 13th, 1859, P. L., 607, which provides that whenever a County Treasurer, after demand, fails to pay over the balance found to be due by him, upon settlement of his accounts by the Auditor General and State Treasurer, proceedings may be instituted by the Attorney General for his dismissal from office."

The language of the law is, beyond dispute, explicit as to the duties of the Auditor General in regard to the collection of these moneys from the City or County Treasurers, and this department has no hesitation in expressing its opinion in regard to the palpable neglect of duty on the part of the State authorities in not demanding a settlement from the City Treasurer, Mr. John Bardsley, in September and November, as defined in the Act of 1889.

It is set forth, in no implied or ambiguous terms, that the Treasurer represents the State as its fiscal agent in the collection of the personal taxes, and as such should have been compelled to pay every dollar when due, in default of which, through the indifference or negligence of the State authorities, the City of Philadelphia is in no manner liable now for its payment.

Should it, however, be decided that the City is liable for the moneys collected under the Act of June, 1889, it might be worthy of the consideration of Councils to pass an ordinance directing the City Treasurer to deposit this money in such depositories as Councils may select. The settlements made with the State by the Treasurer are so infrequent, that it might be deemed advisable to select as depositories some of the stronger trust companies, who would be willing, probably, to not only pay an interest to the City, but give security for the proper custody of the same; providing, also, that all checks drawn against it should be signed by His Honor, the Mayor, or the City Controller in conjunction with the City Treasurer, thus throwing an additional safeguard around these funds.

I append copy of the audit of the City Treasurer by the State authorities, and certified statement of the State funds for 1890; also, copies of the correspondence between the Auditor General, William P. Schell, and his Excellency Governor Robert E. Pattison, then City Controller, dated in February, 1881, from which it will be seen that the State accounts have never been audited by this department, for the reason that the Auditor General would not accept as conclusive any audit by the Controller of the State moneys collected by the City Treasurer.

Mr. D. P. Southworth, then City Treasurer, declined to permit the auditing of his accounts by the City Controller, unless the certificate of the Controller as to the correctness of the audit was accepted as final.

It may be proper to add that this department, while using every exertion toward the investigation of the methods employed by the late Treasurer in the misuse of the public funds, and in which indirectly were involved the moneyed interests of our City, have also endeavored to exercise due precaution toward allaying any injurious influences upon the community occasioned through the late exciting disclosures, the tendencies of which were of a character to awaken a feeling of the most profound uneasiness.

I have the honor to be,

Very respectfully yours,

THOMAS M. THOMPSON,

City Controller.

DEPARTMENT OF THE AUDITOR GENERAL OF PENNSYLVANIA.

Harrisburg, February 7, 1881.

HON. ROBERT E. PATTISON,

Controller of Philadelphia City.

DEAR SIR:—In the settlement of the accounts of the Treasurer of Philadelphia, the Auditor General is governed by the same general laws so far as they are not altered in detail by special laws, and by like department rules, as in the settlement of the accounts of the Treasurers of the other counties of the State. I know of no law which has been so interpreted as to compel the Auditor General to accept the reports of County Auditors or of Controllers, as the case may be, as final, and the uniform practice of this department is and has been to verify all such reports by independent audits of all Treasurers' accounts, after all vouchers and papers, including Auditors' reports, have been filed in this department. Home audits are, as a matter of course, a great assistance to the department, and in many cases after examination, the home audit is accepted without alteration, but in many other cases it is not. The question of doubt as to the right of the controller to audit the accounts of the Treasurer of Philadelphia, was raised by the Treasurer's chief clerk in an informal conversation with the Auditor General, when the Auditor General refused to modify the opinion expressed to the Controller, unless the Treasurer, or his attorney, could cite a law to controvert that opinion.

Respectfully,

[Signed.]

WILLIAM P. SCHELL,

Auditor General.

DEPARTMENT OF CITY CONTROLLER,

Philadelphia, February 4, 1881.

HON. WILLIAM P. SCHELL,
Auditor General.

MY DEAR SIR:—In accordance with your communication of November 17th, 1880, referring to the accounts of the City Treasurer of Philadelphia with the State, I called upon the Treasurer for the purpose of arranging for the audit for the year 1880. He informs me, that you will not accept the audit of the Controller as final, and that you expressed a doubt as to the law requiring me to make such an audit, and the Treasurer is not willing that an audit be made, unless it is accepted as conclusive on the part of the State. You will therefore inform me whether I am to proceed with the audit and if the audit is accepted as final; also your views are desired as to the law governing the Auditor General in auditing the accounts of the City Treasurer.

Very respectfully,
[Signed.] ROBERT E. PATTISON,
City Controller.

MY DEAR SIR:—I read your communication of February 7th, to the Treasurer, and he declines to permit the audit unless you accept the certificate of such audit from the City Controller as final.

APPENDIX No. 124.

LAW DEPARTMENT,

Philadelphia, June 8, 1891.

JOHN ECKSTEIN, ESQ.,

Clerk of Common Council.

DEAR SIR:—I duly received the resolution of Common Council entitled :

“A resolution of request to the City Solicitor for information as to the right of Councils to grant special permission to an individual, firm, or corporation to erect a wooden building in the City of Philadelphia.

“WHEREAS, Councils, by ordinance of 11th of April, 1863, and various supplements thereto, prohibited the erection of any wooden framed, brick paned, or other building whatsoever, the walls whereof are not composed wholly of incombustible material, within certain parts of the City of Philadelphia therein specified ;

“AND WHEREAS, The power of Councils to grant permission by ordinance to erect frame buildings in the prohibited districts has been questioned ; therefore

“Resolved, by the Common Council of the City of Philadelphia, That the City Solicitor be requested to inform this body whether Councils have power or not to grant special permission to an individual, firm, or corporation, by ordinance authorizing the erection of a wooden building within those parts of the City of Philadelphia in which the erection of wooden buildings is prohibited by the ordinance of 1863 and its supplements.”

The Legislature, by the act of March 24th, 1832 (P. L., 178), provided :

“It shall be lawful for the Mayor, Aldermen, and Citizens of Philadelphia to pass ordinances prohibiting the construction within the said City, or any part thereof, of all framed or brick paned or other buildings, the walls whereof are not wholly composed of incombustible materials.”

Councils, by ordinance of April 11th, 1863 (p. 73), provided :

“That it shall not be lawful to erect or construct any wooden framed, brick paned, or other building whatsoever, the walls whereof are not composed wholly of incombustible materials, or remove any such building, except on the same or an adjoining lot, or enlarge any such building anywhere within " certain defined limits being then the built-up portion of the City.

By several ordinances since 1863 the limits within which the construction of wooden buildings is prohibited has been considerably increased.

To construct a wooden building upon one's land, where there is no law prohibiting such construction, is, of course, but a legitimate exercise of the rights of ownership.

To construct a wooden building within the territory where such construction is prohibited is unlawful.

The question presented by the resolution is whether Councils have the right to grant special permission to any one to erect a wooden building within that portion of the City where such erection is declared unlawful by the ordinance of 1863 and those of subsequent years.

I, of course, recognize that Councils have, by numerous ordinances, assumed to grant permission for such erections.

I am clearly of opinion that Councils have not the power to grant special permission to any one authorizing the erection of a wooden building within those parts of the City of Philadelphia in which the erection of wooden buildings is prohibited by the ordinance of 1863 and its supplements.

The principle involved has been decided by the Courts of Common Pleas in this County and by the Supreme Court.

The first case was the celebrated "bay-window case" of Commonwealth vs. Harris (10. W. N. C., 10). The Attorney-General succeeded in procuring the removal of a bay-window erected, under special license from Councils, into a sidewalk.

The ordinance was declared to be absolutely invalid, and the power of Council to regulate the subject, except by general rules and regulations, was denied. The Court said, "Perfect equity before the law is the attribute of free government; it proceeds by general laws affecting all the citizens alike, while, in arbitrary governments, the enjoyment of liberty and property is dependent on the favor of the sovereign."

The same question came up again and was decided the same way in Reimer's appeal, 100 Pa., 182. The Court said, speaking of a special ordinance to permit a bay-window, "This is characterized as special legislation on subjects of general interest and concern, forming no rule or regulation for all alike, but giving invidious privileges to the favored few at the expense of the many, which is contrary to the whole spirit and intent of the authority intrusted to Councils."

Both the cases I have referred to have been recently commented on and approved by the Supreme Court, in Laramie and Lincoln Street Railway Company vs. Laramie Street Railway Company et al, 137 Pa., 546.

The effect of the act of 1834, and the ordinances of 1863 and later dates, is to make it absolutely unlawful to erect wooden buildings within certain portions of the City of Philadelphia. Councils may repeal all ordinances prohibiting the erection of wooden buildings, thus giving to every property owner the right to improve his lot as he pleases; but to grant special permission to one lot owner to put up a wooden building, while similar permission is refused to adjoining and adjacent owners, is to attempt special legislation, which the law has prohibited.

I am, very truly yours,

CHAS. F. WARWICK,

City Solicitor.

APPENDIX No. 125.

PHILADELPHIA AND READING RAILROAD COMPANY,

Philadelphia, June 10, 1891.

To the Select and Common Councils
of the City of Philadelphia.

GENTLEMEN:—I have had under consideration for some months past, a project for furnishing to the City of Philadelphia an abundant supply of pure water.

The general scope of the plans which I am prepared to submit, embraces the utilization of the vast storage reservoirs and other properties of the Schuylkill Navigation Company, and the construction in connection therewith of an aqueduct to carry the water to the City, from a point on the Schuylkill above Norristown, avoiding the possibility of pollution from sewage and other causes of contamination. All this can be accomplished at a moderate outlay, and the works will possess ample capacity to supply all the needs of the City for the next seventy-five years.

The subject is of such far reaching importance, it seems to me, that it deserves the most careful consideration; and I have therefore respectfully to suggest to your Honorable Bodies the appointment of a committee authorized to confer with me during the summer vacation, and to report upon the reassembling of Councils in the autumn.

Yours truly,

A. A. McLEOD,
President.

APPENDIX No. 126.

CITIZENS' MUNICIPAL ASSOCIATION OF PHILADELPHIA.

Philadelphia, June 9, 1891.

To the Sub-Committee of Councils' Committee on Finance.

GENTLEMEN:—I am instructed to lay before your Honorable Body the accompanying copy of preambles and resolutions adopted by the Executive Committee of the Citizens' Municipal Association, at a meeting held this day, and to ask for them such consideration as in your judgment their importance may demand.

Very respectfully yours,

JOEL J. BAILY,
Chairman.

WHEREAS, The Executive Committee of the Citizens' Municipal Association did, on the 6th of April last, petition the Select and Common Councils of the City of Philadelphia for the appointment of a special committee to make a thorough investigation into the condition and circumstances of the City's deposits in all the banks and the relations thereto of the City Treasury, and its chief officer,

AND WHEREAS, In response to said petition the Finance Committee of Councils was empowered to make the investigation called for, and in the course thereof discovered sundry misappropriations of City moneys on the part of the City Treasurer, and of fraudulent transactions, falsification of accounts, and other misdemeanors on the part of two of the National Banks of the City,

AND WHEREAS, It has appeared that other banks beside the two first referred to have paid interest to the City Treasurer on deposits of City or State moneys, and have thus become implicated with the City Treasurer in violation of the law ; therefore,

Resolved, That we press upon City Councils, and its Finance Committee, the importance of continuing the most thorough and searching investigation until every infraction of law and breach of honest management on the part of banks, or other financial institutions or individuals in connection with the City Treasury, shall be fully made known, to the end not only that such abuses may be corrected and the offenders brought to punishment, but that banks and other financial institutions whose business is conducted on sound and safe methods, and in accordance with law, may be relieved from unjust suspicion, and that confidence restored which is so essential to business prosperity and the general welfare.

Resolved, That we approve of the action of the City Councils in requesting the President of the United States to cause a thorough investigation to be made into the action of the Treasury Department in reference to the affairs of the Keystone National Bank, and in the further request "that the Comptroller of the Currency be instructed to appear before the Committee of Councils appointed to investigate the said bank."

AND WHEREAS, It appears that a very large sum of money belonging to the Sinking Fund of the City, amounting at this time to nearly nine hundred thousand (900,000) dollars is now, and has been for a long period, on deposit in one of the banks without yielding any revenue to the City ; now therefore,

Resolved, That the City Councils, through its Finance or other Committee, be respectfully requested to make a thorough investigation into the circumstances of this fund, to ascertain the occasion for the deposit of so large a sum in a single bank, and to inquire into the propriety of so investing the same as to yield an income to the City. We would also recommend that interest should be paid by the banks upon all deposits of the City or State money.

Resolved, That we highly appreciate the efforts of those members of the Finance Committee of Councils who have so effectively aided in the present investigation. The time which they have given to this service, at much sacrifice of personal comfort and convenience, will not fail to receive the grateful recognition of their fellow-citizens.

Resolved, That a copy of these preambles and resolutions be sent to the Finance Committee of Councils.

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS,

Philadelphia, June 4, 1891.

JAMES H. WINDRIM, ESQ.,

Director, Department of Public Works.

DEAR SIR:—In reply to reference No. 92, hereto attached, I make the following report:

The trouble in getting through with plans of bridges and sewers arises, from inability under ordinances of Councils to increase the number of draughtsmen when emergencies arise.

The Survey Bureau has the Walnut street bridge actually under construction, requiring much time and attention. Councils made extraordinary appropriations about the beginning of the year for three bridges, to cost one hundred and eleven thousand (111,000) dollars, and over nine hundred thousand (900,000) dollars for main sewers.

We have only two bridge draughtsmen, one of them much engaged in miscellaneous estimates and calculations, constantly demanded.

There are only three sewer draughtsmen, engaged on twenty-six main sewers, nine of which are now contracted for, every detail of which under the law has to be made out before letting.

It is plain that the force is totally inadequate for rapid completion of work, and the only way left for us is to work on constantly and as rapidly as we can.

The work on the Penn street bridge has been necessary on account of the negotiations with the Reading Railroad Company as to its dimensions and the amount which they would contribute. It is fully authorized the same as the other two, but we have been working on all three of them as rapidly as the force will admit, but without additional help, delays are unavoidable until a greater force is authorized. I recommend that three temporary draughtsmen be authorized in the Survey Bureau at one hundred (100) dollars per month, to be paid out of the appropriation for main sewers.

Yours truly,

SAM'L L. SMEDLY,

Chief Engineer and Surveyor.

AN ORDINANCE

Authorizing the appointment of three temporary draughtsmen in the Department of Public Works (Bureau of Surveys).

SECTION 1. The Select and Common Councils of the City of Philadelphia do ordain, That the Director of the Department of Public Works be, and he is hereby, authorized to appoint three temporary draughtsmen in the Bureau of Surveys, Department of Public Works, at salaries for each not exceeding one hundred and twenty-five (125) dollars per month, one of them to be paid out of the appropriation for Walnut street bridge, and two of them to be paid out of appropriation for building main sewers.

To the Select and Common Councils

GENTLEMEN:—I have the honor to herewith transmit a copy of letter, received in this morning's mail, from the Hon. Charles Foster, Secretary of the Treasury, together with a statement of the Hon. E. S. Lacey, Comptroller of the Currency, being part reply to the resolution of your Honorable Bodies of 4th inst., which I forwarded the President. The copies of the correspondence and the three reports of the Examiner, alluded to in the Honorable Secretary's letter, have not as yet been received, but will be transmitted, upon receipt, either directly to your Honorable Bodies or to the Finance Sub-Committee of Investigation, which ever may first thereafter meet.

I am, respectfully,

EDWIN S. STUART,

Mayor.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT—OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY,

Washington, D. C., June 13, 1891.

HON. EDWIN S. STUART,

Mayor of the City of Philadelphia.

SIR:—In accordance with the advice of the President to you, under date of June 8th, I have the honor to transmit herewith the report of Hon. E. S. Lacey, Comptroller of the Currency, in regard to the affairs of the Keystone National Bank. The correspondence is not yet quite ready, but copies will be forwarded on Monday next, including the three reports of the Examiner.

Respectfully yours,

CHARLES FOSTER,

Secretary.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF COMPTROLLER OF THE CURRENCY,

Washington D. C., June 10, 1891.

HON. CHARLES FOSTER,
Secretary of the Treasury.

SIR:—I have the honor to submit herewith a statement of the facts leading up to the final closing of the Keystone National Bank, and the appointment of a receiver therefor.

The first information received by me in reference to what has been known as the Lucas defalcation was contained in a communication addressed to me by William P. Drew, Bank Examiner for Philadelphia, dated January 24th, 1891, and received by me on the 26th of the same month.

The following is a copy of that communication :

Philadelphia, January 24, 1891.

HON. E. S. LACEY,
Comptroller of the Currency,
Washington, D. C.

SIR:—On entering on the examination of the Keystone National Bank of this City, on the 9th instant, I was informed by the President that there would be disclosed a hitherto effectually concealed debt to the bank of its late President, John C. Lucas, amounting to six hundred thousand (600,000) dollars. This confession has been fully verified by subsequent developments made by me in examining the bank.

It appears that Mr. Lucas, during his presidency of the bank, had with the connivance of the cashier, Mr. Marsh, now the President of the bank, carried out, by adroit manipulation of the accounts of the bank for a series of years, a scheme for systematic abstraction from the bank of large sums to assist his speculations in real estate at Spring Lake and Sea Girt, New Jersey, as well as in the construction of the large building on Chestnut street, here, now occupied in part by the bank. The method of concealment of this large diversion of the bank's funds seems to have been to charge the amounts taken to the general account of deposits, and so to enter individual balances on the ledgers as should make their aggregate credits fit the general account at the time of the examination. Sometimes the foreign bank balances were also "padded" to correspond to the deficit.

To protect the bank so far as possible, I took measures to secure for the bank, without publicity, whatever property belonged to the estate of Mr. Lucas, and, after a few days, succeeded in obtaining the property used by the bank as a banking house, for two hundred and twenty-five thousand (225,000) dollars, and the property at Sprink Lake and Sea Girt, New Jersey. In these endeavors I was assisted by Hon. John R. Read, United States District Attorney, here, whom I employed to aid in the transactions.

There may be still more property of the Lucas estate that can be secured, but it is too early to say positively.

The discovery was reported to the Clearing House Committee, and its opinion is, in view of all the facts so far known, that further time be allowed the directors of the bank to raise some three hundred thousand (300,000) dollars to put into the bank. This purpose is in active course of completion, and it is hoped that by this fresh supply of funds, with a radical change in the management of the bank soon to be effected, the bank can be successfully rehabilitated.

It appears that Mr. Marsh, formerly the cashier of the bank, was at first ignorantly led into the irregular transactions by the President, and that the latter, on his death bed, exacted a promise from Mr. Marsh to continue the deception under representations that the money abstracted would soon be returned to the bank from the results of Mr. Lucas' enterprises.

There does not appear to be any evidence that Mr. Marsh profited in the least by these irregularities.

Since the disclosure, he has faithfully and earnestly co-operated in all efforts to assist the bank to secure property for this debt, and his intimate knowledge of all matters connected with the affair has been of great use.

Beyond the directors of the bank, the seven members of the Clearing House Committee, the counsel on either side, and myself, no one has any knowledge or suspicion, so far as I can say, that the bank is in any trouble, and it is earnestly hoped that no publicity be given to the affair until the bank shall be rehabilitated, or all efforts to that end found to prove futile.

I enclose a sort of abstract which will show the condition of the bank yesterday morning, the 24th instant. I shall visit

Washington on Tuesday next, the 27th instant, to attend a college reunion, and will call upon you at your office on that day.

Should you wish to telegraph me to-morrow, please send to "Keystone National Bank." Any letter may be sent to me at my house, 3939 Chestnut street.

Very respectfully,

W. P. DREW,
National Bank Examiner.

P. S.—In a few days I shall be able to forward to you a full report of the condition of the bank.

Accompanying this letter was a preliminary statement of the resources and liabilities of the association, which, after considering all probable losses, as stated by the Examiner, left the capital stock of five hundred thousand (500,000) dollars intact, and, in addition thereto, a net surplus of fifty-five thousand eight hundred and nineteen (55,819) dollars and twenty (20) cents.

It will be noticed that the Bank Examiner, in the communication above quoted, states that an indebtedness of the Lucas estate had been theretofore concealed, amounting to six hundred thousand (600,000) dollars, and that the amount thereof had been verified by the examination subsequently made by the Bank Examiner. It is also to be observed that, so far as the letter shows, this confession was made by President Marsh on the 9th of January, of his own motion, and that he was said to have been at first ignorantly led into the irregular transactions by the late President Lucas, whose protege he was, and to whom he was under very great obligations, and that Mr. Lucas had on his death-bed exacted a promise from Mr. Marsh to continue the deception until the missing sum could be made good from the results of the Lucas enterprises.

It is further to be noted that the statement is made that no evidence appeared that Mr. Marsh had profited in the least by these irregularities, and that he had since the disclosure, faithfully and earnestly co-operated in all efforts to assist the bank to secure property to make good the indebtedness; and that his intimate knowledge of matters connected with the affair was almost indispensable.

It is also to be observed that the letter states that the directors of the bank, seven members of the Clearing House Committee, the counsel on either side (one of whom was the United States Attorney for Philadelphia), and the bank examiner himself were the only persons who had knowledge of the indebtedness of the Lucas estate and of the conveyance of the property, which, so far as the report shows, made good the sum abstracted.

It is also to be observed that, in Mr. Drew's opinion, and presumably upon consultation with the gentlemen named, and upon their advice, it was important that no publicity be given to the affair until the bank should be fully rehabilitated.

Upon receipt of this report the Comptroller was confronted with a grave responsibility. The entire country had but recently passed through a crisis, caused by a severe monetary stringency, which made absolutely necessary the issuing of clearing house certificates in three of the great seaboard cities. The uneasiness caused by this situation had been greatly aggravated in Philadelphia by reason of the failure of several large private and State banking houses, and by the run which had been made upon the Keystone National Bank in December, under the effects of which it was still suffering.

For these reasons the situation was one requiring the most considerate and careful treatment, and anything tending to shake returning confidence in financial institutions was to be studiously avoided. A renewal of the run upon the Keystone National Bank might have involved other banking institutions and produced wide-spread disaster.

It was also true that the Keystone National Bank had passed through a severe crisis in December and had been able to weather the storm, with six hundred thousand (600,000) dollars less assets than it had when this report reached the Comptroller.

It is evident that the Comptroller could not at this time lawfully have closed the bank, nor could he have even levied an assessment to make good an impairment of capital, as none existed, according to this report. The danger, then, was for a time past, and the Comptroller decided to await the arrival of Mr. Drew on the 27th of January, the day following the receipt of this communication, when a full consideration of the situation in Philadelphia was entered upon and exhaustively discussed.

It is well to remember in this connection that Mr. W. P.

Drew was the senior Examiner in point of service; that he had been appointed, in 1872, by Comptroller Knox, and had been continued in office by Comptroller Cannon and Comptroller Trenholm, although he was not in harmony politically with the latter; and that when the present Comptroller entered upon the duties of his office, no man stood higher in point of ability, integrity and skill than Mr. Drew.

It is also to be remembered that the communication of Mr. Drew set forth the fact that he had been in consultation with the directors of the bank, seven members of the Clearing House Committee, and the United States Attorney, and that he had the benefit of their knowledge of the situation and their acquaintance with the bank, its assets, and its officers.

It was represented to the Comptroller by Mr. Drew at this interview that, in his judgment, and in the opinion of the Clearing House Committee, the property conveyed to the bank by the Lucas estate was equal in value to the indebtedness which had been concealed, and that in any event the creditors of the bank were entirely safe.

It was also represented that to publicly sever President Marsh's connection with the bank would immediately excite suspicion, and that it would be impossible to convince the public that some grave losses had not been sustained by the bank; that Mr. Marsh was thoroughly repentant, and was actuated by a very earnest desire to do all in his power to assist the bank in recovering any sums which had been improperly taken from it. It was, however, deemed necessary that additional funds should be placed in the bank, as its reserve had been deficient for a large part of the time since the run in December, and, while the real estate conveyed to the bank would ultimately produce a sum equal to the debt which it was to liquidate, that the cash in the bank needed to be promptly reinforced, either by the sale of real estate or reduction of its line of discounts. It was, therefore, after very serious consideration, deemed best for the bank, for its creditors, for the other banking associations, and for the City of Philadelphia, whose Treasurer had an active account in the bank, that Mr. Drew should continue his examination of the bank and promptly place his assistant, Mr. Jones, in charge of the books, with the understanding that the active directors of the bank should visit it daily. Director Nichols, who was most conversant with the banking business, was expected to give especial attention to its affairs.

This was the more feasible for the reason that Mr. Nichols was the President of the Central Trust Company, his office being in the same room with the Keystone National Bank.

Under these conditions, and for these reasons, the Comptroller did not insist upon the immediate resignation of President Marsh, although it was distinctly understood that he was to remain there only so long as his services were absolutely necessary in adjusting the irregularities which had grown up under his management, as he was, since the death of Mr. Lucas, the only person living who was conversant with the operations which resulted so disastrously to the bank.

The Comptroller, therefore, did not close the bank at this time, for the reason that he had no lawful authority to do so upon the facts submitted, and for the further reason that he was advised by the Bank Examiner that the capital of the bank was unimpaired; that the creditors were, therefore, fully protected, and that prompt effort would be made to replenish the cash by deposits of three hundred thousand (300,000) dollars, to be made by the leading directors and stockholders, which should place it in funds until its own assets became available.

The next communication received from Mr. Drew, in relation to the matter under discussion, was a telegram on the 30th of January, which reads as follows:

"Strong credit with Clearing House this morning. Prospects encouraging."

No further communication pertaining to the matter under consideration was received prior to the visit of the Comptroller to the City of Philadelphia on the 12th of February, as a member of the Assay Commission, upon which occasion he had an interview with Mr. Drew and several of the leading directors of the bank, including Mr. McFadden, Mr. Nichols, and others of the board whose names cannot now be recalled. There seemed to be a very earnest purpose shown upon the part of these directors to immediately pay in any sum necessary to make good any deficit which the examination, then still in progress, should develop, and it was agreed that the reserve of the bank should be restored and maintained.

The Comptroller at this time, urged upon Examiner Drew that the examination should be completed at the earliest date possible, in order that the funds of the bank might be replenished by the payment of whatever sum was necessary to make good its impairment of capital, if any appeared, and he parted with the directors attending the conference firmly impressed with the belief that they were able and willing to place the bank in an entirely satisfactory condition as soon as it was determined what amount was necessary for the purpose. At this time the Comptroller asked Examiner Drew for a revised statement of the condition of the bank, which he promised to complete at the earliest date practicable and forward by mail.

It was also agreed that a full meeting of the board of directors was to be held, and arrangements made for the prompt payment of any assessment which might become necessary upon the facts developed in the final report which was to be made.

The next communication received from Mr. Drew was under date of February 16th, which reads as follows:

Philadelphia, Pa., February 16, 1891.

HON. E. S. LACEY,
Washington, D. C.

SIR:—I have arranged to lay before the Board of Directors of the Keystone National Bank here, your conclusions with reference to an assessment on the capital stock of the bank, at their meeting to-morrow. Some of the stockholders have already expressed to me their willingness to pay their proportion. I propose to lay before the directors to-morrow a complete statement of the condition of the bank, at that time, and to agree with them upon the amount of losses of all sorts likely to accrue, and shall reduce all values to a fair minimum. I hope to mail you to-morrow evening my report. I learn that Mrs. J. C. Lucas, widow of the late President, intends to sail for Europe within a short time. As she owns 2,000 shares ($100,000) stock of the bank, action should be taken at once.

Please forward to me written instructions on which I can act. The bank was a creditor at the Clearing House this morning, $49,400, and everything at the bank was quiet as usual.

Very respectfully,

W. P. DREW,
National Bank Examiner.

One day later I received from him the following communication, dated February 17th, viz.:

1326 AND 1328 CHESTNUT STREET, OPPOSITE U. S. MINT,

Philadelphia, February 17, 1891.

HON. E. S. LACEY,
Comptroller of the Currency,
Washington, D. C.

SIR:—I have the honor to enclose herewith a report of the condition of this bank at the close of business on the 16th instant.

I regret that I have not had time to-night to transfer the same to the appropriate blank form. As it is, it will, I hope, convey all attainable information regarding the bank at present.

It will take a very long time to fully elucidate the methods by which so large a part of the capital stock has been abstracted, without disclosing the deficit in the books and accounts of the bank. That the whole amount of the loss has been appropriated by the late President and his friends I am more and more convinced. I have felt that the present President, who was Cashier under Mr. Lucas, has not been involved in the depredation further than to have been the obedient instrument of a peculating and designing chief. But within a day or two I have been forced to entertain suspicions of him. I hope these suspicions are groundless, but I shall endeavor to satisfy myself as soon as I can.

I met the Board of Directors to-day, and laid your conclusions before them. While some are willing to pay the required assessment others fear that such an order would create another attack on the bank, and I should not be surprised if a committee from the board visited you this week, to further discuss the matter.

The bank settled, in debt, ten thousand (10,000) dollars, this morning at the Clearing House.

Everything seems to be moving along in the accustomed, quiet way.

If the enclosed report is not satisfactory, in form, or otherwise, will you please return it and I will transfer it to the proper blank form.

Very respectfully,

W. P. DREW,

National Bank Examiner.

P. S.—Mr. D. P. S. Nichols, of the Board of Directors, has consented to become Vice-President of the Bank, for a time, at least. He is a very proper selection for that trust, and will supervise all the operations of the bank.

This latter communication was accompanied by a memorandum, which had been submitted to the directors of the bank on the day previous, and which disclosed an estimated impairment of one hundred and twenty-five thousand (125,000) dollars, after reducing all assets to their estimated cash value.

While this showed an impairment of capital it did not indicate insolvency, for the reason that the bank would still have assets amounting to three hundred and seventy-five thousand (375,000) dollars, after having provided for all liabilities other than the capital stock.

Upon receipt of these two communications I addressed a letter to Mr. Drew, under date of February 20th, a copy of which is given below :

MR. W. P. DREW,

National Bank Examiner, 3939 Chestnut Street,
Philadelphia, Pa.

MY DEAR SIR :—I am in receipt of your two favors of the 16th and 17th inst., and note what you say in reference to No. 2291.

The statement you sent is satisfactory as to the matter, but I should prefer to have had it on one of our regular blank forms, as putting it in a more valuable shape. I would suggest that you send another, with the items stated, upon the regular blank used for report, and take up each separate heading and give an estimate, in your judgment, of the exact value of the resources as stated. Estimate the discount upon each class of investments.

My object in this is, if possible, to arrive at precisely the amount of deficiency necessary to be made up by assessment upon the capital stock.

I should be glad to see any committee of the board which may visit Washington, but can conceive of no better way to put the institution in first-class shape than that suggested by me. One thing is certain, that some action is imperatively necessary, and the sooner it is taken the better will be the results. I shall, of course, sustain and encourage the board in their endeavor to put matters in a satisfactory condition.

Very respectfully,

E. S. LACEY,

Comptroller.

The next communication referring to this matter seems to have been the final and formal report, as developed by the examination, which had been in process continuously since the communication of January 24th. This was dated February 28th, and reached me on the 2d of March.

Having duly considered all the items stated in this report, it became apparent that an impairment of capital existed to the extent of at least two hundred and fifty thousand (250,000) dollars, whereupon, under date of March 7th, I levied an assessment of two hundred and fifty thousand (250,000) dollars upon the association, to make good an impairment of capital to that amount, under the provisions of Section 5,205 of the Revised Statutes of the United States, which reads as follows:

“Every association which shall have failed to pay up its capital stock, as required by law, and every association whose capital stock shall have become impaired by losses or otherwise, shall, within three months after receiving notice thereof from the Comptroller of the Currency, pay the deficiency in the capital stock by assessment upon the shareholders pro rata for the amount of capital stock held by each; and the Treasurer of the United States shall withhold the interest upon all bonds held by him in trust for any such association upon notification from the Comptroller of the Currency, until otherwise notified by him. If any such association shall fail to pay up its capital stock, and shall refuse to go into liquidation, as provided by law, for three months after receiving notice from the Comptroller, a receiver may be appointed to close up the business of the association, according to the provisions of Section 5,234."

OFFICE OF THE COMPTROLLER OF THE CURRENCY,

Washington, D. C., March 7, 1891.

MR. G. W. MARSH,

President Keystone National Bank,
Philadelphia, Pa.

SIR:—I enclose herewith notice of an assessment of two hundred and fifty thousand (250,000) dollars, levied upon your association to make good an impairment of capital for that amount.

Respectfully yours,

E. S. LACEY,
Comptroller.

OFFICE OF THE COMPTROLLER OF THE CURRENCY,

Washington, D. C., March 7, 1891.

WHEREAS, It appears to the satisfaction of the Comptroller of the Currency that the capital stock of the Keystone National Bank, of Philadelphia, Pa., has become impaired to an extent which makes necessary an assessment of two hundred and fifty thousand (250,000) dollars upon the shareholders of said association, to make good such deficiency; now, therefore,

Notice is hereby given to said association, under the provisions of Section 5,205 of the Revised Statutes of the United States, to pay the said deficiency in its capital stock by assessment upon its shareholders pro rata for the amount of the capital stock held by each, and if such deficiency shall not be paid, and said bank shall refuse to go into liquidation, as provided by law, for three months after this notice shall have been received by it, a receiver will be appointed to close up the business of the association, according to the provisions of Section 5,234 of the Revised Statutes of the United States.

In testimony whereof, I have hereto subscribed my name, and caused my seal of office to be affixed to these presents, at the Treasury Department, in the City of Washington and District of Columbia, this 7th day of March, A. D. 1891.

E. S. LACEY,

Comptroller of the Currency.

To the Keystone National Bank,
Philadelphia, Pa.

This assessment was levied under the positive promise made by the committee consisting of Messrs. Haynes, Hughey and Marsh, who visited me personally about a day or two after the receipt of the formal report, that the amount assessed would be paid in within one week at most, and that those advancing the funds to make good the impairment of capital would wait for reimbursement until the full pro rata sums had been collected from the stockholders of the bank.

Not having been advised that the amount levied to make good the impairment had been paid in according to agreement, I addressed a letter to Mr. Drew on the 13th of March, a copy of which is here given :

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,

OFFICE OF THE COMPTROLLER OF THE CURRENCY,

Washington, D. C., March 13, 1891.

MR. W. P. DREW,

National Bank Examiner, 3939 Chestnut street,
Philadelphia, Pa.

SIR:—On the 7th instant I made an assessment upon the Keystone National Bank, of Philadelphia, in the sum of two hundred and fifty thousand (250,000) dollars, to make good an impairment of their capital stock.

Will you please advise me what has been done in the matter, and what amount, if any, has been paid in to make good the deficiency.

Give me all the facts touching upon the condition and prospects.

Very respectfully,

E. S. LACEY,
Comptroller.

In response to this communication the following letter was received from Bank Examiner Drew :

Philadelphia, March 14, 1891.

HON. E. S. LACEY,
Comptroller of the Currency,
Washington, D. C.

SIR:—In answer to your letter of the 13th instant, I have the honor to report that your order of the 7th, for an assessment of two hundred and fifty thousand (250,000) dollars to make good impairment of the capital stock of the Keystone National Bank, of this City, was duly received by the President, and, on the following day (the 8th), was laid before the Board of Directors, and its purport communicated to some of the other large stockholders.

Beyond expressing a purpose to secure the required amount as soon as practicable, the board has not as yet inaugurated any measures to obtain it, and no portion has been paid in. Although the old board of eleven members was re-elected in January last, several of them have failed designedly to qualify, or have tendered their resignations. Among them D. P. S. Nichols, who I had hoped would accept for the time being, at least, the vice-presidency, and who is President of the Central Trust Company, with quarters in the same room with the bank, and Charles McFadden, who rendered much assistance to the bank in the "run" of last December, are the most important. Mr. Nichols owns 250 shares of stock of the bank, and Mr. McFadden 700 shares. While they decline to continue as directors, they express full concurrence in the expediency of the assessment, and will readily pay their proportion when, as they say, other large stockholders will pay theirs. These declinations further to serve as directors on their part, as well as an apparent disposition of the others who remain in the board, with the exception of Mr. Haynes, who owns 991 shares of the stock of the bank, to put the entire labor and responsibility of the resuscitation of the bank on the President, render united and zealous co-operation on their part, at least for the present, out of the question.

I have earnestly endeavored to supply the vacancies in the board with other and desirable men; but, under the circumstances, few such are available. A suggestion was made yesterday, coming from three stockholders, in—Mrs. J. C. Lucas, 2,100 shares; Mr. Haynes, 991 shares, and Mr. Yard, 950 shares—total 4,041 shares, to transfer during the present month, without consideration, to the bank, all these shares, which the bank could use for its own benefit representing, at par value, more than two hundred thousand (200,000) dollars. I declined to entertain the proposition, as it was crudely stated, and as (myself) being in doubt what the practical effect would be towards replacing the deficiency in capital. The matter may be formulated fully and submitted to you.

An offer of three hundred and fifty thousand (350,000) dollars for the principal part of the property at Sea Girt will, I understand from the attorney of the parties offering, be soon resubmitted, and I have advised acceptance by the bank of the offer, as it is represented to be a cash offer. What will come of this, it is now impossible to say.

It is still confidently expected that during the present month payment of seventy thousand (70,000) dollars will be made to the bank from the camp-ground sold at Sea Girt to the State of New Jersey.

The condition of the bank remains practically unchanged since my last report. Its settlements are made regularly with the Clearing House; often, however, by draining the bank of nearly all of its available funds in the morning. The committee have daily, almost hourly, knowledge of the condition of the bank, and are disposed, and so state, to favor the bank in all endeavors for recovery, so far as is consistent with protection to the exchanges.

Outside of the account of the City Treasurer, who has all along endeavored to assist the bank, so far as he properly could, by putting in every day checks, etc., in the bank to cover, so far as possible, his drafts the next day through other banks or the Keystone National Bank, the individual deposits have diminished since February 15th ult. a little more than two hundred thousand (200,000) dollars.

A large amount could be collected from overdrafts and overdue paper, and shortly, if the directors of the bank would, as I have repeatedly suggested, take the work into their own hands, instead of placing it on the President, who is absorbed in other matters necessarily connected with the conduct of the bank under the present embarrassing circumstances—one hundred thousand dollars (100,000) dollars at least could be collected from these sources within a short time. I have thought of attending to these matters myself, but have refrained from fear of exciting apprehensions and public unfavorable remarks. I am at the bank daily, but have omitted lately any constant stay there for obvious reasons. I have a report every evening from the general book-keeper, who has been my chief assistant. There does not appear to be any uneasiness among the patrons of the bank, but at the least evidence of a threatened "run" I will faithfully obey your directions, and close the bank, and take charge of its affairs.

I am greatly disappointed in finding so little active support given by the directors in the effort to rehabilitate the bank, and, at times, am fearful that the continual strain under which the President unavoidably labors may result in a sudden and hopeless breaking down of his physical energies. He seems well, however.

If you can make such orders upon the directors of the bank as will compel an earnest and effective co-operation on their part I shall be glad to enforce them. Fifty shares of the stock of the bank were sold last week for thirty (30) dollars per share, and since that time some offers to purchase the controlling interest in the bank have been made by strong parties, but as the stock is under assessment such offers cannot be considered without working disclosure of the assessment. Possibly something may come of these propositions eventually.

I will write you often, reporting progress, when any is made, or any changes affecting the general condition of the bank.

The haste with which I have been obliged to write, in order to mail this letter so you can receive it on Monday, must be my excuse for the appearance of this letter.

Very respectfully,

W. P. DREW,

National Bank Examiner

This communication reached me on the 16th, and three days later I telegraphed Examiner Drew to close the bank.

On the 17th of March, I made the following reply to his letter:

OFFICE OF THE COMPTROLLER OF THE CURRENCY,

Washington, D. C., March 17, 1891,

MR. WILLIAM P. DREW,
Examiner of National Banks, 3939 Chestnut street,
Philadelphia, Pa.

MY DEAR SIR:—I am in receipt of your favor of the 14th instant, which I have read very carefully.

The condition of No. 2,291 is such, that I must insist upon the prompt payment of the larger part of the amount of their assessment within the next five days, or else I shall feel called upon to take peremptory action towards bringing the matter to a determination, one way or the other.

I do not feel at liberty to allow matters to proceed any further under the conditions which now exist, and you will please so inform the parties in interest, without delay, and advise me of their reply.

I am very much surprised to learn that Mr. Nichols and Mr. McFadden have resigned as directors of the bank, as I was led to understand, while I was in Philadelphia, that they were to be the principal agents in bringing the bank back again into line. I supposed, from assurances given me by Mr. Marsh, Mr. Hughey and Mr. Haynes, that the amount of the assessment would be paid into the bank within a very few days from the time they received my communication.

The directors of the bank should understand that their failure to qualify after their last election, or their resignation at this time, will not, in any manner, protect them from their responsibility as directors, during the period when the losses occurred to the bank.

It seems to me that, if they thoroughly understood their interests, they would realize that promptness and courage would be in the end the wisest and cheapest way in which they can escape from the present dilemma.

Very respectfully,

E. S. LACEY,

Comptroller

The bank was closed on the night of the 19th of March, and did not re-open for business. The order to close it was given after an interview with Mr. Marsh at my house, on the evening of the 19th of March last. He, at that time, informed me of the fact that certificates representing about 2,500 shares of stock in the Keystone National Bank, had been improperly delivered to Mr. John Wanamaker during the life-time of Mr. John C. Lucas, and that negotiations for the surrender and cancellation of the same had failed, for the reason that Mr. Wanamaker claimed to hold them as a pledge, for the payment of a certain sum of money due him from the estate of John C. Lucas, and he declined to surrender the stock until the debt was paid.

Upon learning these facts from Mr. Marsh, I immediately determined to close the bank, but did not so inform Marsh. I asked him to go to the residence of Mr. Wanamaker, and tell him that I had been informed as to the existence of this stock, and then to return to my house. My purpose in this was to secure time enough to inform the Department of Justice, and give an opportunity for Mr. Marsh's arrest before he left the city, in case that course was deemed advisable.

As soon as Mr. Marsh left my house, I called at the residence of the Attorney-General, but learned that he was not in the city. I then laid the facts before the Solicitor-General, and discussed with him the entire situation. The Solicitor-General did not deem it necessary to arrest Mr. Marsh at that time, believing that a man who had voluntarily confessed as to the Lucas defalcation, and made a journey from Philadelphia to Washington, to inform the Comptroller as to these irregular issues of certificates of stock, was not likely to fly for the purpose of avoiding the arrest which he had thus invited.

On returning to my house from this conference with the Solicitor-General, I found Mr. Marsh awaiting me, and soon after he left for Philadelphia. Immediately after the departure of Mr. Marsh, I visited the telegraph office, and sent the following despatch to Mr. Drew, at his residence, 3939 Chestnut street, Philadelphia :

"Visit Keystone Bank, nine o'clock to-morrow morning, and await telegram from me."

This was followed early on the morning of the 20th of March by a telegram, reading as follows:

Washington, D. C., March 20, 1891.

W. P. DREW,

National Bank Examiner,

Care Keystone National Bank, Philadelphia, Pa.

You will close number twenty-two hundred and ninety-one immediately, and take charge of its assets. Answer quick.

E. S. LACEY,

Comptroller.

(The charter number of the Keystone National Bank is 2,291.)

This brings the narrative up to the closing of the bank, since which time all its assets have been in charge of the officers of the General Government, and properly kept and cared for, as completely so while under the charge of the Bank Examiner as when in the custody of the Receiver.

Complaint has been made because of delay in appointing a Receiver. This is utterly without force, as no interest whatever has thereby suffered, and for the further reason that the delay was not unusual. The bank was closed on the evening of March 19th, and a Receiver was appointed on the 9th of May.

This bank was therefore in the hands of the Examiner fifty days after being closed, during which time he was in effect an acting-receiver. During the earlier weeks of a trust an Examiner is capable of giving all necessary attention to its ordinary affairs. Certainly all the assets were carefully guarded, maturing paper collected, accounts written up and adjusted, and all the current matters properly attended to. The fact that an Examiner can thus temporarily take charge of a closed bank is of great advantage, as it enables the Comptroller to give proper encouragement to all bona-fide attempts to reopen failed banks by the contribution of new capital. Under the encouragement thus afforded, the Comptroller has, since January 1st last, enabled four failed banks to resume active business in a solvent condition, another has been permitted to go into voluntary liquidation, and two more will reopen for business during the present month. And, again, this temporary employment of an Examiner enables the Comptroller to take the time necessary to a proper selection of a Receiver. This was especially necessary in the case under consideration, where hasty action might have resulted in an improper appointment and grave complications. The average time between the closing of a bank and the final appointment of a Receiver in the last twenty-one cases is found to be thirty-two days. And this deliberation not only tends to facilitate the reopening of failed associations, but it also results in a wiser choice of receivers, and hence greater economy and efficiency, with its resulting benefits to unfortunate creditors.

In the case of the Keystone National Bank there were numerous applicants, and all from the City of Philadelphia. Presumably all were excellent men, but the Comptroller was bound to investigate, with great care, in order that he might be certain that the person chosen should not be a debtor, creditor, or stockholder of the bank, nor related to any such by ties of relationship or by such associations of a social, religious, or political character as would embarrass him in the vigorous and impartial administration of his trust. It resulted in the selection of a non-resident, who was not originally an applicant, and, I believe, the selection has been unanimously commended.

The records of this Bureau show that during the period intervening between the closing of the bank and the appointment of a Receiver there was an unintermitting effort in progress among the directors, stockholders, and creditors of the closed bank to procure the necessary contributions to its capital, in order that it might reopen for business. This reopening was deemed practicable by those who ought to have known best about the matter, and the Comptroller would have been recreant to his duty if he had not given every encouragement to efforts which would, if successful, have made immediately available the balances due its 1,200 depositors, and the large sums due the City Treasurer.

It is easy to say now that rehabilitation was impossible, but the Comptroller could not then act upon the facts which it has taken three months of vigorous and persistent investigation to develop. The efforts at reorganization were headed by many men of character and wealth, and at different times Messrs. Wagner, Field, and Davis were considering the acceptance of the presidency. It was represented to me that three hundred thousand ($300,000) dollars of new capital had been subscribed, and that another one hundred thousand ($100,000) could be secured as soon as they could engage a proper person as manager.

The depositors had frequent meetings and various committees were appointed, and it was represented that all were unanimous in favoring a delay in the appointment of a Receiver, until the efforts in progress should either succeed or finally fail. During the entire period no party interested ever made any complaint about the delay in the appointment of a Receiver.

Only a day or two before I had determined upon the appointment of Mr. Yardley, a committee of some seven prominent business men and lawyers, representing various interests, appeared before me to protest against the appointment of a Receiver. Among these were Messrs. Davis, Bowman, Gray, Bardsley, and others, whose names I cannot now recall. All favored delay, except Mr. Gray, who created great surprise and consternation by favoring a prompt appointment.

The appointment of Mr. Yardley followed almost immediately. The Comptroller has been criticised for three things :

First. For allowing Mr. Marsh to remain in office after his confession, and not causing his arrest.

Third. For delay in appointing a Receiver.

As the first matter complained of I have this to say : That I am nowhere charged with any responsibility in connection with criminal prosecutions, and a Bank Examiner is held to have done his duty so soon as he lays before the U. S. Attorney any facts involving crime, which may come to his knowledge in the discharge of his duties. Every Bank Examiner is instructed and expected to do this, and I could not avoid the conclusion that Mr. Drew had discharged this duty after reading his letter of January 24th, in which he says that he was assisted in securing a settlement with the Lucas estate "by the Hon. John R. Read, U. S. District Attorney, whom he had employed to aid him in the transaction." I had the right to suppose that from that time on, to the final arrest, that the U. S. District Attorney was fully informed as to Marsh's conduct. In this letter, and in the interview which followed, on the 27th of January, I was led to believe that not only the U. S. District Attorney, but also the Clearing House Committee, were conversant with all the facts, and that these gentlemen, together with the Directors of the Bank (who were really the responsible parties) and the Examiner, were all of the opinion that Mr. Marsh had made a voluntary confession as to the funds abstracted by Lucas; that he had not profited by the defalcation in any way; that he was genuinely repentant; that he was the only one living who could substantiate any claim for the lost funds, and that his services were almost indispensable to a complete solution of the difficulties which surrounded the bank. During the time he remained President the Examiner was daily at the bank, his assistant was acting as Chief Book-keeper, one of the most capable directors had an office in the same room, and others of the board were expected to look closely after the management.

Second. For delay in closing the bank.

In regard to this matter I desire to say that the Comptroller can only act in accordance with law, and so far as this case is concerned, he is governed by the provisions of Section 1, of the Act of June 30th, 1876, which reads as follows:

“That whenever any National Banking Association shall be dissolved, and its rights, privileges, and franchises declared forfeited, as prescribed in Section 5,239, of the Revised Statutes of the United States, or whenever any creditor of any National Banking Association shall have obtained a judgment against it in any Court of Record, and made application, accompanied by a certificate from the Clerk of the Court, stating that such judgment has been rendered and has remained unpaid for the space of thirty days, or whenever the Comptroller shall become satisfied of the insolvency of the National Banking Association, he may, after due examination of its affairs, in either case, appoint a Receiver, who shall proceed to close up such Association, and enforce the personal liability of the shareholders, as provided in Section 5,234 of said Statutes.”

It will be observed that the Comptroller is not commanded to appoint a Receiver in any of the cases mentioned, but he may do so under certain conditions. As the Keystone National Bank had never had its franchise declared forfeited, nor had had judgment rendered against it, nor committed any other act of insolvency, the Comptroller could not proceed under this section unless he became satisfied of its insolvency.

As the report of Examiner Drew, under date of January 24th, shows that the capital of the bank was not in any degree impaired, the Comptroller certainly had no lawful right to close it at that time.

As the statement of February 16th, forwarded by Examiner Drew, exhibits an impairment of only one hundred and twenty-five thousand four hundred and sixty-six (125,466) dollars and eleven (11) cents, leaving an excess of three hundred and seventy-four thousand five hundred and thirty-three (374,533) dollars in assests, after all liabilities were provided for, it certainly would not have been justifiable for the Comptroller to certify to its insolvency, and close it up when no act of insolvency had been committed. This brings us down to the report of February 28th, which reached the Comptroller on Monday, March 2d, 1891.

The bank was closed on the evening of the 19th of March, so that the largest possible delay of which complaint can be made by any right-minded person conversant with the law and the facts, is reduced to sixteen full days, or fourteen business days, exclusive of Sundays. The entire force of the criticism is thus narrowed down to this, that the Comptroller in the conscientious exercise of the discretion imposed upon him by the statute decided that it was, all things considered, wisest and best to impose the lighter of the two penalties which the law provided, and give the bank fourteen days in which to pay an assessment under Section 5,205, rather than to immediately order it closed, with all that such a disaster means to the numerous worthy people whose funds are thus rendered of no avail. Discretion is given to an executive officer as it is to a judicial officer, and he can only be censured when he fails to faithfully and conscientiously weigh the facts presented, and in good faith do that which, all things considered, will, in his opinion, end in promoting the welfare of those whose interests are involved. The Comptroller is conscious of having done precisely this, in the case under consideration. What are the facts? The entire country was in a nervous condition financially. This was especially true of Philadelphia, where at least four recent failures of banking institutions had unsettled confidence, which was slowly returning. Failures are often contagious, and the placing of this bank in a safe situation would have gone far towards ensuring the safety of others. It would have saved the money and the credit of the numerous depositors; it would have saved the City of Philadelphia and the State of Pennsylvania from serious losses; it would have saved the sureties of the City Treasurer from the penalties of his official bond; it would have in many ways conduced to promote the welfare of the business community in which it was situated. There were several men of reputedly large wealth on the Board of Directors; these had assured the Comptroller that the sum of two hundred and fifty thousand (250,000) dollars would be promptly paid in as soon as an assessment was made; this assurance was repeated to him just at the moment when he was called upon to decide which of the two penalties should be applied.

An assessment, if paid in as agreed upon, would prevent a disastrous and scandalous failure, while the harsher alternative could bring nothing but serious loss, and much of suffering to many.

In the honest exercise of his discretion the Comptroller determined to give the stockholders one last chance, and imposed an assessment of two hundred and fifty thousand (250,000) dollars. Failing to secure its payment after fourteen business days he closed the association.

Third. For delay in appointing a Receiver.

This criticism is of very little importance in any event, and has been pretty fully discussed already.

I desire to repeat, however, that the appointment of a Receiver was not made immediately, because:

(1). It was the duty of the Comptroller to facilitate a resumption of business by the bank.

(2). It was important, considering all the business and municipal ramifications which the failure involved, that plenty of time be given for developments, in order to avoid the appointment of some improper and interested person.

(3). No person can show that any creditor, debtor, or stockholder has been damaged to the extent of one dollar by reason of said delay.

In closing this branch of the subject, in justice to one whose name has been brought into the discussion of this failure, I desire to say that Hon. John Wanamaker has never, directly or indirectly, suggested or solicited one day's delay in the closing of the bank, nor in the appointment of a Receiver, except as appears by the telegram hereinafter quoted. In fact, I have met him but once during the present year, and that meeting was on the 21st day of March, at the suggestion and in the presence of Hon. A. B. Nettleton, then acting Secretary of the Treasury. This interview was the day after the Keystone bank was closed and the failure was fully discussed.

He substantially confirmed the information I received from Mr. Marsh, and said that he held as a pledge certificates rep-representing about two thousand five hundred shares of stock in the Keystone Bank, and that he had declined to surrender them unless the Lucas estate would pay him the amount his due. I urged him to use his influence in aid of the efforts being made to reopen the bank. He promised to look into the matter the same night on his return to Philadelphia, and I telegraphed Mr. Drew to call upon him with a statement of the assets and liabilities of the bank, and to facilitate in every way possible his taking an active interest in the schemes for reorganization. I failed, however, in my attempt to enlist him in the enterprise, and so ended all communication between us on any subject connected with the bank's affairs, excepting the receipt of the following telegrams:

TREASURY DEPARTMENT.

(Telegram.)

Washington, D. C., April 2, 1891.

From Post-office Department.

To HON. EDWARD S. LACEY,
Comptroller.

Mr. Marsh, of the Keystone Bank, came down last night to say that it was reported you intend to appoint a Receiver of the Keystone Bank unless something more definite was done to-day. I believe nothing would suffer from giving them twenty-four hours longer, at the end of which they may put on paper something more definite to be presented to you. From what he says they are getting along pretty well in securing subscriptions to the new stock. I would recommend appointment of Receiver be deferred, say, one day, until he has an opportunity to state something more definite.

JOHN WANAMAKER.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT.

(Telegram)

Washington, D. C., April 8, 1891.

From the White House.

TO MR. LACEY :

Marsh telegraphs me to-day to inform you that the parties negotiating for control of bank are to give answer to him on Friday next.

WANAMAKER.

I desire to make this disclaimer as comprehensive and explicit as possible.

In concluding this statement I deem it my duty to say that, in my opinion, the several reports made by the Bank Examiner did not reflect the true condition of the bank under consideration. The degree of blame, if any, which properly attaches to Mr. Drew is yet to be ascertained. He is entitled, by reason of his long and hitherto acceptable service, to an impartial investigation and a fair hearing. He has recently been so fully employed, by reason of the failure of the Keystone and Spring Garden National Banks, that it has as yet been found impracticable to give the matter the consideration its importance demands. In the meantime, however, he has been directed to suspend examinations until the facts are submitted and a conclusion reached.

In conclusion I beg leave to say that I have endeavored to give a full and complete narrative of the action taken by this Bureau during the entire period extending from the first day that the Lucas defalcation was brought to my attention, up to and including the appointment of Receiver Yardley. If any matter has been omitted, or any point not made clear, it will be fully explained as soon as indicated.

Inclose herewith I have the honor to hand you copies of the three reports made by the Examiner on the condition of the Keystone National Bank.

Respectfully yours,

E. S. LACEY,

Comptroller.

GENTLEMEN :—Your Sub-Committee, to whom was referred an ordinance to place upon the plan of the City Berks street, from Frankford avenue to Front street, respectfully report that we have examined into the matter and are of the opinion that this should not be done, as in our judgment it will do very great damage to the freight station located at that point, and establish a very dangerous crossing at grade over a number of tracks of the railroad, and cost considerable in damages for the opening of said Berks street. We therefore return the bill with a negative recommendation.

To the Chairman and Members of the Committee on Municipal Government.

GENTLEMEN :—Your Sub-Committee on Small Parks, to whom was submitted the question of placing Vienna Park in the Eighteenth Ward on the City plan, respectfully report that they have visited the locality and find it in the midst of a population badly in need of small park facilities.

The plot itself is well adapted to the purposes proposed—one-half is on an abandoned burial ground, and public sentiment is against the removal of the bones of the dead to encourage real estate speculation. It also offers the advantage that the city can take possession in sections, if thought desirable. The best part of the remaining half is occupied by an old malt-house property, which might remain undisturbed till the owners are ready to ask the City to take it, and the same may be said of a small plot of improved property on the southeast corner. They recommend the adoption of the annexed ordinance.

APPENDIX No. 191.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

Philadelphia, September 1, 1891.

To the Select and Common Councils
of the City of Philadelphia.

GENTLEMEN :—I have the honor to herewith transmit for your consideration a communication from James H. Windrim, Director of the Department of Public Works, concerning additional appropriations required by the several Bureaus of that Department, and also the amounts available for transfer.

I am, respectfully,

EDWIN S. STUART,

Mayor.

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS,

Philadelphia, September 1, 1891.

HON. EDWIN S. STUART,

Mayor of the City of Philadelphia.

DEAR SIR :—I have the honor to report that unless additional money is furnished this Department operations on new work will practically cease. The appropriations for new work, which is specifically ordered by Councils, are so much below the amounts required to complete them under the ordinances already passed, that it is impossible to continue work, even of the most pressing character.

The following is a detailed statement of the condition of affairs:

City Ice Boats.

No money is needed for these boats, but some transfers, in addition to the large transfers already made, can be made from the annual appropriation, and will be stated in detail in another portion of this report.

Bureau of Gas.

The Bureau of Gas reports that there will not be money sufficient in the annual appropriation to this Bureau for 1891, for the following reasons:

1st. No allowance was made for an increase make of gas from coal; the consumption has increased prior to the completion of the work authorized to increase the make of water-gas.

2d. Because it was deemed necessary to cover buildings not previously provided for by insurance.

3d. Because of the necessity requiring the contractor to furnish more water-gas than had been taken during the previous year; also, in this connection I would state that of this year's appropriation, $34,921.14 was paid on account of water-gas purchased in December, 1890.

Additional appropriations should be made to:

Item 2, wages, etc.	$50,000 00
Item 5, incidentals.....	700 00
Item 6, water-gas	98,000 00
Total.....		$148,700 00

OFFICE OF THE COMMISSIONERS OF PUBLIC BUILDINGS,

Philadelphia, September 1, 1891.

To the Select and Common Councils
of the City of Philadelphia.

GENTLEMEN:—In accordance with the Act of Assembly of August 5th, 1870, the Commissioners for the Erection of the Public Buildings hereby make requisition on Councils for the sum of one million seven hundred and sixty-seven thousand five hundred and seventy-one (1,767,571) dollars, being the amount of money required by them for the purposes of the Commission for the year succeeding the present.

This requisition is in addition to any balance which may remain unexpended at the close of the present year to the credit of the Commissioners, but this balance, under any circumstances, will necessarily be small. No revenue can be expected from the Public Buildings during the present year. The amount of this requisition corresponds with the estimate furnished the City Controller under date of August 5th, 1891.

Very respectfully,

SAM'L C. PERKINS,

President of Commissioners.

APPENDIX No. 197.

DEPARTMENT OF THE CITY CONTROLLER, CITY HALL,

Philadelphia, September 1, 1891.

To the Select and Common Councils
of the City of Philadelphia.

GENTLEMEN :—In accordance with the provisions of the Act of Assembly approved June 11th, 1879, I herewith furnish a detailed statement of the estimated receipts, expenditures, and liabilities for the next fiscal year, commencing January 1st, 1892, and for the five months of the current year from August 1st to December 31st, 1891. I have also added thereto the usual calculations for the tax rate, in conformity with said act.

The aggregate estimated expenses of the City for the year 1892, as submitted, amount to $27,679,645.08. In this are included the lawful obligations due by the City, which embrace the payment of the four per cent. loan, interest on bonds, Sinking Fund, State tax on loans and mandamuses, amounting to $4,484,048.40, and which must be provided for and deducted before any appropriations are made.

To these legal obligations, the details of which are elsewhere set forth, have been added the estimated deficit of 1891, amounting to $452,733.25, making a total to be first deducted of $4,936,781.65.

The estimated appropriations asked for by the Departments and Bureaus, show an increase over that appropriated for 1891 of $4,335,966.26.

I have considered among the liabilities, the full amount of the balances to the credit of the City in the Keystone and Spring Garden National Banks at the time of their suspension, to wit:—Keystone, $441,554.32; Spring Garden, $144,000; certificate of deposit with the Spring Garden National Bank, $4,402.25; and while there can be no doubt that a dividend may in the near future be declared by the Receivers of the respective banks, yet in the present statement of the City's finances, I deem it advisable to charge the full amount to profit and loss, and whatever may be realized in the future from these sources can readily be appropriated then by Your Honorable Bodies, if in your opinion the needs of the Departments require it.

The balance of the school fund due by the State of Pennsylvania for 1890 and the total due for 1891, amounting in all to $450,856.46, the greater part of which was paid to our late City Treasurer, John Bardsley, does not appear in this statement, for the reason that the City was never credited with the amount paid to Mr. Bardsley, $445,428.23, after it was received by him on account of the City.

The only portion taken into consideration of this large amount, is the small balance of $5,428.23 yet due by the State, and carried in the estimated receipts to December 31st, 1891.

To the absence of this school fund from the table of assets, "as cash on hand," may be attributed almost the entire amount of the deficit shown.

Due by the State for the year 1891	431,428 23
Amount appropriated by John Bardsley.....	445,428 23
Balance due by the State for the year 1891.....	$5,428 23

I have made no calculation for any claims the State may institute against the City for losses resulting from the actions of our late City Treasurer in the settlement of the moneys collected for personal taxes, for the reason that I do not feel that we are in any sense responsible or liable to the State, having paid to Mr. John Bardsley, whom we recognized as the fiscal agent of the State, every dollar that was due, the day on which it was received, and have his receipts therefor; and, with this end in view, have included in the estimated receipts to December 31st, 1891, the amount due by the State.

The detailed statement of the receipts and expenditures for these seven months ending August 1st, 1891, and of the estimated receipts and expenditures for the five months ending December 31st, 1891, show an estimated deficit of $452,733.25.

The estimated mandamuses for the year 1891 were $300,000, but the actual amount drawn from the treasury by mandamuses for the seven months to August 1st, 1891, amounted to $395,155.50; the additional sum of $50,000 is therefore set apart for the year 1891, and the estimate for the payment of mandamus executions in 1892 increased $100,000 over that estimated for the previous year.

I desire to call your special attention to the increased amounts to which we are entitled from the State under the Act of June 6th, 1891, known as the "Boyer Bill." Under this Act the City of Philadelphia will receive from the State, on account of the school fund for 1892, not less than $1,000,000, which is an increase over that estimated for the year 1891 of $600,000.

By the recent Act of the Legislature, retail liquor license fees have been increased to $1,000 each, the City of Philadelphia receiving the full amount of said license. In 1891, one thousand two hundred and fifty licenses were issued at the rate of $500 each, the City of Philadelphia receiving four-fifths of the amount.

Under the present rate per license I deem it best to place the estimate of those to be issued at, at least one thousand one hundred for 1892 (probably it may exceed that number), which will realize to the City of Philadelphia the sum of $1,100,000—an increase over the estimated receipts of 1891 of $640,000.

The City is also to receive for the ensuing year three-fourths of all personal taxes collected, amounting to at least $700,000, being an increase of revenue from this source over that estimated for 1891 of $500,000, making a total increase of revenue from the State of $1,740,000 over that estimated for the year 1891.

It will readily be seen that the several above increases more than cover the losses occasioned by the suspension of the two national banks and the embezzlement of the school fund by the City Treasurer.

The value of taxable property for the year 1892, as furnished by the Board of Revision of Taxes, which includes suburban, farming, and personal property, amounts to $735,696,772—an increase of $21,793,930 over the valuation of 1891.

The following is a comparison of the two years:

	1890.	1891.
Real Estate—" City, Suburban, and Farm,"	$710,641,367	$732,300,892
Personal—" Horses and Cattle".....	3,261,475	3,395,880
Total valuation.....	$713,902,842	$735,696,772

To meet the current expenses and increased demands according to the estimates furnished by the several departments and bureaus for the ensuing year, it will be necessary to levy a tax rate of $2.86 per $100 upon the valuation of taxable property, which, under the present condition of affairs, I would consider unwise and impracticable.

A tax rate of $1.85 (as at present) upon the valuation of taxable property in 1892, after deducting a certain percentage for delinquents and the estimated deficit for 1891, and adding the estimated revenue from gas, liquor license receipts, and school fund, will yield $18,069,358.49—an increase over that of 1891 of $1,536,539.45.

A tax rate of $2.00 per $100, or an increase of 15 cents upon the present rate, including the deductions and additions before noted, will produce $19,088,187.49—an increase over the amount to appropriate in 1891 of $2,525,368.45.

I herewith submit a tabulated statement of the receipts as estimated for the year 1892, to wit:

Total amount subject to appropriation for 1892....	$18,069,358 49

Making a total increase subject to appropriation over that of 1891 of $1,536,539.45.

This available excess is derived from the increased valuation of taxable property, the average income from other sources, departments and bureaus, and the revenues from the State for schools and personal property, while a reduction is found in the number of delinquent taxables and in the lawful obligations due by the City.

In forwarding to Your Honorable Bodies this annual report of our City's financial condition, I desire to express the great gratification felt by me at the favorable results shown therein, especially so in view of the defalcations of our late City Treasurer, Mr. John Bardsley, in the early part of the year.

At that time it was apparently with no uncertain predilection upon the part of our citizens, that the results as summed up at the close of the year in the estimates of the Controller, would present an impairment of the finances, inviting the gravest consideration at the hands of those called upon to supervise the distribution of the requirements for the maintenance of our municipality, in its rapid growth, its necessary permanent improvements demanded by the various departments in the interest of greater educational facilities, improved highways, water, gas and sewer extensions, and the enlargement of the police and fire regulations.

It was hardly expected that our City would not feel, even with its immense capabilities, some depression from the troubles in our treasury; but, happily those fears were exaggerated, and we may congratulate ourselves upon the resources of our City, as shown in the report now before you.

It is with profound satisfaction, therefore, that I am enabled to submit a statement that, notwithstanding the increased expenditures of the departments and the additional appropriations required to meet them, may not necessitate a tax rate for the year 1892 exceeding that of the present year.

Very respectfully,

THOMAS M. THOMPSON,
City Controller.

APPENDIX No. 206.

OFFICE OF THE BOARD OF HARBOR COMMISSIONERS,

Philadelphia, September 16, 1891.

To the Select and Common Councils
of the City of Philadelphia.

The Board of Harbor Commissioners for the City of Philadelphia respectfully submits the following report :

This Board had the honor of last addressing your Honorable

Bodies under date of January 10th, 1891, giving a short account of the acquisition by the United States of the islands obstructing the harbor of the port of Philadelphia, and a brief history of the proceedings of the Board of United States Engineers, appointed by the Secretary of War, to establish harbor lines on the Delaware river, in front of the City.

Accompanying the report referred to above was a draft of an Act of Assembly, authorizing City Councils to revise the harbor lines on the Delaware river, in conformity with those to be established by the Secretary of War, which this Board asked should be presented by your Honorable Bodies to the State Legislature, then in session. The request of the Board received your prompt consideration, and the Legislature, in response to your petition, passed the following Act, which received the approval of the Governor June 8th, 1891 :

"SECTION 1. Be it enacted, etc., That the Select and Common Councils of cities of the first class be, and they are hereby, authorized, from time to time, to revise and establish the line beyond which no wharf or pier shall extend, and also to revise and establish the arbitrary low water-line, or bulk-head line, on the Delaware river, in front of cities of the first class, in conformity with those now established by the Secretary of War, or as they may, from time to time, be established by him during the progress of the work of the improvement of the harbors of said cities."

To make effective the provisions of the Act, and to permit the extension of wharves or piers to the new harbor lines, as they may be established by the Government, from time to time, it is necessary that an ordinance be passed establishing the revised harbor lines in accordance with the provisions of the State law.

The accompanying form of ordinance is made part of this report, and is respectfully submitted for your consideration, with recommendation that the same shall receive your early and favorable action.

By order and vote of the Board.

W. R. TUCKER,
Secretary.

JOEL COOK,
President pro tem.

AN ORDINANCE

Establishing the revised line beyond which no wharf or pier shall extend, and the arbitrary low water-line or bulk-head line on the Delaware river, in front of the City of Philadelphia.

SECTION 1. The Select and Common Councils of the City of Philadelphia do ordain, That in accordance with the authority of an Act of Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, approved June 8th, 1891 (P. L. 209), the line beyond which no wharf or pier shall extend, and the arbitrary low water-line or bulk-head line on the Delaware river, in front of the City of Philadelphia, shall be established in conformity with the plan or plans of said lines, adopted by the Secretary of War, from time to time, and filed by the Board of Harbor Commissioners for the City of Philadelphia, in the Department of Public Works (Bureau of Surveys).

SECT. 2. That whenever the said Board of Harbor Commissioners shall officially file said plan or plans in the Department of Public Works (Bureau of Surveys), fixing the line beyond which no wharf or pier shall extend, and the arbitrary low water-line or bulk-head line on the Delaware river, in front of the City of Philadelphia, then from and after said filing said line or lines shall be established in accordance with the plan or plans so officially filed.

APPENDIX No. 207.

Philadelphia, September 17, 1891.

The subject of supplying the City with pure water is one of interest to all its inhabitants. I wish to submit, through the medium of your paper, to them and the City's Councils the following plan, by which pure water may be obtained.

First, make a canal from Catfish dam, on the Schuylkill river, above Kennedy's Hollow, below Valley Forge; run it along the west side of the Schuylkill river to Flat Rock dam, where there is a suitable site to serve as a receiving station. From this the water can be pumped up an easy grade to the top of Flat Rock, commonly called, Crow Hill, into a supply basin. On the top of this hill there are fully ten acres of level ground, which could be utilized for this purpose.

The elevation there is more than at any point in the county of Philadelphia. From this supply basin the water could be carried by gravity in pipes laid beneath the public roads (thereby saving considerable outlay of money) to an additional supply basin at City avenue and Belmont road, which could be used as a feeder for the present basin in West Fairmount Park, and, if necessary, for the East Park reservoir, by carrying the water by gravity by way of the old inclined plane and across the river. The highest points of the three wards west of the river could be served with pure water, the higher parts in Haddington by a separate main from City avenue basin.

For the purpose of supplying the residences of Roxborough, Chestnut Hill and vicinity, the water could be carried across the river by an aqueduct from the canal opposite Shawmont on the east side of the river.

The water from Shawmont could be carried down through Manayunk and along the River Drive in the East Park in pipes to the Spring Garden Works' forebay, and continued to supply the forebay at the Fairmount Works.

If thought feasible and better to save expenses, the sewer now used for drainage (but inadequate), could be properly flushed and cleaned and used for the purpose, supplying water to Spring Garden and Fairmount Works; the water of the Wissahickon, which flows into the sewer, is wasted, but could be saved to help supply pure water. The river from Norristown to the city could be used to carry all the sewage from the mills, etc., etc.

By this system the entire city could be supplied with pure water at a less expense than any other plan than has been suggested, and the future purity and quantity of the water could be preserved by the erection, wherever needed, of impounding dams on the Perkiomen and other streams, which flow into the Schuylkill above Catfish dam, as far up the river as Maiden creek, above Reading. Also, there could be at least six impounding dams on the Schuylkill, between Valley Forge and Maiden creek, for the purpose of an abundant supply of water.

GENTLEMEN:—We, your Committee on Highways, to whom was referred the ordinance to permit the paving of Lehman street, from Wissahickon avenue to Morris street, without a sewer being first constructed, respectfully report that since the passage of the ordinance to authorize the paving of Lehman street it has been found impracticable to construct a sewer for want of an outlet. We therefore ask the passage of the annexed ordinance.

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS,

Philadelphia, September 16, 1891.

MR. THOMAS MEEHAN,

DEAR SIR:—Lehman street runs from Morris street to Wissahickon avenue, with a summit in the middle of the square. There is no sewer on Wissahickon avenue or likelihood of it for a long time, therefore no outlet for a sewer on the west half of Lehman street.

There is a sewer on Morris street which would give an outlet, but there is no cash to build it, and an ordinance of Councils forbids building a sewer for part of a block.

I am informed that all the houses on Morris street are now provided with new cess-pools in the yard, and the property owners are accommodated, and do not require a sewer at the present time.

Whenever they demand and urge sewer accommodations, they can be accommodated by pipes under the sidewalk, so that there will be no necessity to tear up a new pavement if laid at this time.

Yours truly,

SAM'L L. SMEDLEY,

Chief Engineer and Surveyor.

AN ORDINANCE

To permit the paving of Lehman street, from Wissahickon avenue to Morris street, without a sewer being first constructed.

SECTION 1. The Select and Common Councils of the City of Philadelphia do ordain, That the Department of Public Works be authorized and permitted to pave Lehman street, from Wissahickon avenue to Morris street, without a sewer being first constructed in said street.

DEAR SIR.—The limit of the contract of Frederick Starke for a sewer on Thirtieth street, under ordinance of April 1st, 1890, which is a tunnel under the Connecting Railroad, from the south side thereof to Sedgley avenue, was limited in accordance with approximate estimate of the District Surveyor of length to be built.

Howell, Jr., for abating a nuisance on premises Nos. 300 to 304 Lehigh avenue, southeast corner of Lehigh avenue and Orianna street, and 2665 to 2675 Orianna street, the work having been done without strict conformity to an ordinance of Councils limiting the expenditures to fifty (50) dollars where no contract is made; the abatement of said nuisance without the least possible delay being imperative for the protection of the public health.”

“Resolved, That the bill of one hundred and twenty-five (125) dollars and eighty (80) cents, in favor of L. O. Howell, Jr., for abating a nuisance on premises Nos. 300 to 304 Lehigh avenue, southeast corner of Lehigh avenue and Orianna street, and Nos. 2665 to 2675 Orianna street, be approved upon the report of the inspector and the statement of the health officer that the work was imperative, and that any delay for the usual advertisement and award of contract would jeopardize the health of the inhabitants; and further, that each property owner has paid into the City Treasury his share of the entire cost for abating the nuisance.”

APPENDIX No. 230.

OFFICE OF CITY CONTROLLER,

Philadelphia, September 23, 1891.

To the Select and Common Councils
of the City of Philadelphia.

GENTLEMEN:—In the annual report for 1890, of Mr. Robert P. Dechert, late City Controller, your Honorable Bodies were informed that a detailed statement would in the near future be presented of the delinquent taxes that were uncollectible.

Many causes are assigned for the reason of the taxes not being collectible, among which was the decision of Judge Biddle, delivered in the Court of Common Pleas No. 1, December 24th, 1890, in the case of the City vs. Heister, this decision being sustained by the Supreme Court.

A brief history of this case is as follows:

The City filed a lien on October 21st, 1880, for taxes for 1877 and 1878 for three hundred and thirty-five (335) dollars and sixteen (16) cents, against a lot on Master street, in Philadelphia.

On August 14th, 1885, a writ of Sciens Facias was issued to collect the lien.

On September 25th, 1889, an affidavit of defense was filed, setting up payment.

The only question then before the Court was whether the registered taxes for 1877 and 1878 ceased to be a lien on real estate after the expiration of five years from the first day of January in 1878 and 1879.

On June 19th, 1890, the Court entered judgment for the defendant; reargument was subsequently ordered, and on December 24th, 1890, the Court again entered judgment for the defendant.

An opinion was delivered by Judge Biddle, who said that by the Act of March 11th, 1846, all taxes registered as aforesaid in the County Commissioners' office, shall cease to be liens after the expiration of five years from the first day of January in the year succeeding that in which they become due, unless suit be brought to recover same, as it is now or may be provided by law for the recovery of the same and duly prosecuted to judgment. And by the Act of May 4th, 1889, the lien of these taxes is limited to two years, unless entered of record, and limited to five years if recorded, unless revived and continued and prosecuted to judgment.

The decision of the Supreme Court was filed April 27th, 1891, affirming the judgment upon the opinion of the learned Judge of the Court below.

I now have the honor to forward herewith a concise account of the registered taxes, liened and not liened, for the years 1869 to 1880, inclusive, embracing in their compilation the examination of over 25,000 liens.

It will be seen from these accounts that for the years therein included, the taxes liened amounted to ninety-nine thousand one hundred and eighty-six (99,186) dollars and sixty-six (66) cents, to which should be added Public Building's tax of three thousand one hundred and seventy-nine (3,179) dollars and ninety-two (92) cents, making a total liened of one hundred and two thousand three hundred and sixty-six (102,366) dollars and fifty-eight (58) cents.

The amount not liened for the same years, comprise four hundred and thirteen thousand eight hundred and forty-nine (413,849) dollars and sixty-three (63) cents, and twelve thousand seven hundred and eighty-five (12,785) dollars and twenty-seven (27) cents Public Building's tax, making a total of not liened of four hundred and twenty-six thousand six hundred and thirty-four (426,634) dollars and ninety (90) cents.

Neither of the above amounts are now collectible, although that portion which was liened was so considered prior to the decision of the Supreme Court before quoted.

By reference to the report of the Controller for 1890, page 30, there appears to be outstanding in taxes, the sum of six million one hundred and twenty-nine thousand six hundred and seventy-five (6,129,675) dollars and fifty-two (52) cents, covering a period of years, and prior to the Act of Consolidation of 1854 to December 31st, 1890.

This large amount of seemingly uncollected taxes that have been carried from year to year in the reports of the Controller have no existence in fact, and are based upon estimates only, this Department having no official knowledge of many of the causes which follow for the non-collection of taxes that are charged as delinquent; for instance:

By reason of reductions made through claims barred by the statute of limitations, some being stricken off by the direction of the Courts, some which have been paid through the execution of the Courts and not having been satisfied of record, and by including in the valuation thousands of dollars' worth of property exempted from taxation by general or special legislation, such as churches, colleges, cemeteries, charitable institutions, etc., also by assessing properties in duplicate, i. e., fronting on two streets and assessed upon each frontal; hence the accumulation of alleged outstanding taxes as reported by the Controller on January 1st, 1891, did not exceed five hundred and thirty thousand (530,000) dollars, as shown by the figures from the duplicate tax registers under revision in this Department, and as per statement forwarded with this communication, showing the taxes due from each and every ward.

The additional safeguards introduced, and at present in operation for the protection of the City's interests, in the Department of the Receiver of Taxes, for the collection of taxes, are found to be highly efficient and satisfactory, and for your information I submit the manner in which it is conducted.

This Department charges the Receiver of Taxes with the amount of taxes to be collected, this information being received from the Board of Revision of Taxes, who forward to this Department the amount of taxable property.

All taxes paid are credited to the Receiver of Taxes, and the amount remaining unpaid at the first of each and every year is charged to the delinquent department, this office having duplicate books showing each and every taxable property in the City.

We credit the delinquent department with the amount of taxes collected by them, and at the end of the year the amount not collected is handed to the City Solicitor to enter suit and file a lien against the properties. Under this plan the City of Philadelphia does not lose a dollar in the collection of taxes.

We might add that the estimated receipts from delinquent taxes for 1891, as per the estimate in the Controller's report forwarded to Councils on September 1st, 1890, was seven hundred and seventy-five thousand (775,000) dollars, but the collections up to the present time amount to eight hundred thousand (800,000) dollars, and it is estimated that by January 1st, 1892, at least one million (1,000,000) dollars will have been collected.

This Department is now engaged in the compilation of the records from 1880 to 1890, and will submit them to your Honorable Bodies upon completion, for such action as may be deemed proper to be taken in the matter.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

THOMAS M. THOMPSON,
City Controller.
